Congo, U. N. Troops Clash

Use Of Arms Is Defended By Kasavubu

Assembly Debates Whether To Seat Congo President

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union Monday night accused the U. N. Command of collaborating with the forces of Col. Joseph Mobutu and demanded an immediate report from Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold on the latest turn of events in the Congo.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — President Joseph Kasavubu Monday night defended the action of the Congolese army in using force to compel the U. N. Command in the Congo to expel a Ghanaian diplomat.

He made his views known as the U. N. General Assembly plunged into a night debate on whether to accept the recommendation of a credentials committee that a delegation headed by Kasavubu be given the long vacant Congo seat in the Assembly.

The debate was marked by an exchange of angry charges among African delegates divided on the seating issue. The Assembly was expected to approve the committee's recommendation Tuesday.

Confers With Mobutu

Kasavubu and his foreign minister, Justin Bomboko, carried on a long conversation by radio teletype with Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congolese army commander. Mobutu's troops went into action against the U. N. forces in order to compel the expulsion of Nathaniel Welbeck, the Ghanaian charge d'affaires.

Afterward Bomboko issued a statement from Kasavubu saying the president a month ago had declared Welbeck no longer acceptable in Leopoldville, and accusing Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah of using insulting language in refusing to accept Kasavubu's ruling.

Kasavubu disclosed he had sent cables to the U. N. Secretary-General and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia expressing regret over the shootings in front of Welbeck' embassy residence, but blaming Ghana's "lack of understanding" for making the show of force necessary.

Guinea Leader Accuses U.S.

There were these additional developments affecting the complicated Congo crisis:

1. The delegation of Guinea disclosed that President Sekou Toure had sent a cable to President Eisenhower accusing the United States of taking a partisan stand in Assembly debate, and declaring Guinea would refuse to take part in any U. N. conciliation efforts in the Congo if the U. S. position unchanged.

2. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold warned that the United Nations must either supply the money needed to pay for its 20,000-man army and other U. N. activities in the Congo, or scrap the entire operation. He told the Assembly's Finance Committee the U. N. treasury would be empty by the end of the year.

3. The United States issued a statement accusing the Soviet Union of trying to plunge the Assembly into a cold war debate on a strictly African issue. "We do not plan to fall into their old familiar cold war trap," a U. S. spokesman said in charging the Russians with making "wild and asinine" anti-U. S. allegations.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Three Americans were killed Monday in the crash of a twin-engine plane of the U. S. military mission after it caught fire in the air near the town of Viacha, about five miles from La Paz.

The dead were identified as Capt. Hugh Broiles, 34, chief of the geodetic survey in Bolivia; Capt. J. Duel, recently arrived from Panama, and Sgt. Joe Karson, 24.

Kennedy To Be 12th 'Minority' Chief Executive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy will be a "minority" president — the 12th in history.

An unofficial, but almost complete, tabulation at 5 p.m. EST Monday showed that Kennedy fell short by more than 100,000 votes of getting a majority of the ballots cast for president on Nov. 8.

The tabulation by United Press International counted the votes from all but 51 of the nation's 166,264 voting places. It included all but a small portion of the late-counted absentee ballots.

At that point, the percentage margin by which Kennedy led Vice President Richard M. Nixon in popular votes stood a fraction below the record low set in the 1884 election.

Thus, the votes cast for the two major candidates in this year's presidential election may have been more evenly divided than ever before. That will not be known for sure until all the ballots are officially tabulated next month.

But it already was certain that Kennedy had failed to receive a majority of the total vote.

The latest UPI tabulation showed:

Kennedy 34,049,287
Nixon 33,845,878
Others 449,166
Total 68,394,331

Kennedy's total was 147,879 below the 50 per cent mark—a margin which he has no chance of overcoming in view of the small number of ballots still to be tabulated.

In fact, the gap is more likely to increase rather than to drop in the final, official tabulation. The current tabulation includes a complete count of votes for Kennedy and Nixon in some states where figures are not yet available on the ballots cast for minor party candidates.

The last "minority" president was Democrat Harry S. Truman. He was elected in a four-man race in 1948 in which he ran 2,100,000 votes ahead of the Republican candidate, Thomas E. Dewey.

Soviet Expels Assistant U.S. Air Attache

Embassy Official Accused Of Illegal Espionage Activity

MOSCOW (AP)—Maj. Irving T. McDonald, assistant U.S. Air attache, Monday was ordered to leave the Soviet Union. Accused of illegal intelligence activities, he is the fourth U.S. Embassy official to be expelled in 13 months on some form of espionage charge.

Minister Counsellor Edward L. Freers was called to the Soviet Foreign Office in the afternoon and told that McDonald's presence in the Soviet Union was no longer desirable and he must leave as soon as possible.

McDonald, 34, from Provincetown, Mass., is on a trip in the Ural Mountains and is expected back Wednesday. Fluent in Russian, he arrived here April 21, 1959, with his wife and two children.

Legion Of Merit Winner

In 1956 he was awarded the Legion of Merit for work with the National Security Agency, a top-secret communications outfit specializing in U.S. and foreign codes.

Freers was told by the chief of the Foreign Office's American section that "competent authorities established that McDonald was continuing intelligence activities incompatible with the status of an accredited diplomatic worker."

The Soviet official charged that McDonald posed as a tourist near the city of Kharkov Oct. 18 in an area around military installations. He was given a warning then, the official said.

Ouster Not Unexpected

The Russians previously had connected McDonald with the case of Col. Edwin M. Kirton of Palo Alto, Calif., U.S. Air attache expelled Aug. 10. The Russians charged Kirton organized an intelligence network in the Soviet Union and photographed military and industrial objectives on numerous trips.

McDonald was given a warning at the time of Kirton's expulsion, and Soviet authorities said steps would be taken against him "if he does not cease impermissible activities." The embassy denied the charges against both men.

In Washington, State Department officials were not surprised. They said that after McDonald received his warning in August his expulsion was regarded as a virtual certainty.

Norstad Urges Nuclear NATO

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad proposed in effect Monday that the Atlantic alliance become a nuclear power, with member nations sharing equal control of the weapons.

The 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Organization already has nuclear missile warheads at its disposal, but they are under tight control of the United States and in some cases Britain.

Norstad is supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe. Speaking to the annual NATO parliamentarians' conference, he said "there should be a basic pool of atomic weapons with an equal voice in control of these weapons."

U.S. Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson was in the audience.

Johnson had assured the some 200 parliamentarians that the recent U.S. election was in no way "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

"First Secretary" Plan Spurned By Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposal for a "first secretary" of the government, to act in the role of an American prime minister, was rejected Monday by a Senate group.

The turndown came from Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and the staff of his Senate subcommittee on national policy-making machinery.

The effect was to pour cold water on a plan which President Eisenhower has been expected to recommend.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who headed Eisenhower's advisory committee on government organization, advanced the idea of a supersecretary to exercise delegated presidential authority on all national security affairs "at the prime ministerial level."

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other witnesses before Jackson's committee endorsed the general idea earlier this year. Herter, however, said the secretary of state should be the official who should have "clear primacy" in policy decisions affecting security.

Sen. Jackson issued a report of the committee staff.

It analyzed the first-secretary plan and said: "Our governmental machinery has no place for a first secretary."

"Super - Cabinet officers or above - the - department superstaffs would not ease the problems now faced by a president in setting and maintaining our national course," Jackson said.

Auto Death Trap For Family Of Seven

Seven Killed In Each Of Four Car Accidents

By The Associated Press

A rash of family-erasing car accidents has marred the nation's safety record in advance of the four-day Thanksgiving Day weekend starting Thursday.

Four separate accidents in the last 10 days killed 28 persons and virtually wiped out three families. The tragedies prompted the National Safety Council to issue a caution warning to all motorists.

By grisly coincidence, each of the four accidents killed seven persons each.

The first fatal stroke of seven in the current series was sounded Nov. 11 when Richard Childester, 29; his wife, Evelyn, 25, and five other members of their family were returning home after visiting their youngest son, Tommy, 1, ill with virus in a hospital at Aurora, Ill. Police were told a trailer-truck collided with another car, jack-knifed and tumbled onto their car, crushing them to death. Tommy was the only survivor.

Then, seven days later the Rev. John Eastman, 29, a Presbyterian minister in southern Minnesota, loaded his six children into the family car and started out from their Lewiston home to visit a friend in a nearby city while his wife attended a school class play. They were killed when the car struck a bridge abutment.

The entire family of Howard R. Lemons, 39, an Oregon lumber company executive, drowned, presumably Sunday, when their car slid past a guard rail near Eugene, Ore., during a rainstorm. Searchers found their car under water Monday in Dexter Lake. Other victims were Mrs. Lemons, 35, and their five children.

Monday, seven persons died when a train struck a car at a crossing in Toltec, Ariz. The dead were identified as Mrs. Annabelle Martin, her brother-in-law, and her young son and Mrs. Ralph Jewel and her two sons. The families lived on a ranch south of Toltec.

Texas GOP Vote Probe Bid Denied

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson Monday night denied a Republican request for a statewide investigation of what the GOP called 'frauds and irregularities" in the Nov. 8 presidential election in Texas.

Wilson, however, did grant a test inquiry into the balloting of 34 precincts in Wichita County. A Republican spokesman called Wilson's action an effort to "sweep the matter under the rug and forget it."

The district court in Wichita County, Wilson said, could determine "whether this is the type and kind of fraud" that would authorize him to probe further.

Wilson said he wanted to make it clear that by his action "I am not saying this constitutes constructive fraud." During his conference with Republican attorneys, he indicated he did not think it was.

Kennedy Will Slash White House Staff

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy expects to wipe out the powerful post of assistant to the president and to slash the White House staff sharply.

Kennedy's chief liaison man with the Eisenhower administration, Clark M. Clifford, outlined the prospects to newsmen after all-day sessions with Kennedy.

Clifford said there has been no discussion of a heavy cut or big overturn down the line through the various government departments and agencies.

Clifford said Theodore Sorensen, 32, will come closest to performing the duties now handled by the assistant to the president.

Clifford said, however, he would rather not comment on whether Sorensen will become the ranking member of the White House staff.

The title Kennedy has listed for Sorensen is that of special counsel. He could very well wind up with the unofficial designation as assistant president, corresponding to the role of Harry L. Hopkins in the Roosevelt administration.

Through the years, Sorensen probably has been closer to Kennedy than any other person, in launching and helping direct the campaign that will put Kennedy in the White House Jan. 20.

Wilton B. Persons now is the assistant to President Eisenhower. Before him it was Sherman Adams, who resigned under Congressional attacks that he accepted favors in returns for favors.

In the Truman administration John R. Steelman held the position.

Supreme Court Sets Apportion Fight Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court, in what could be a historic step, Monday entered the fight by metropolitan areas to cut down the disproportionate voting power of rural voters.

Specifically, the court agreed to look into the refusal of the Tennessee Legislature to reapportion seats in the state legislature since 1901.

If the court later decides, after hearing arguments on both sides, to rule on the controversy it could have nationwide repercussions. Similar situations of disparity in relative voting power between rural and metropolitan areas exist in many states.

The Tennessee constitution requires reapportionment of the General Assembly every 10 years by counties or districts according to the number of qualified voters.

The litigation was brought by a group of voters living in metropolitan areas in Tennessee, including Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville.

Through the years, the Supreme Court has handed down numerous decisions refusing to interfere with districts laid out by the states.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers filed a brief supporting efforts to compel a reapportionment of legislative districts in Tennessee.

The institute said that in the last two decades the United States has become predominantly urban, with more than two-thirds of the population living in cities and suburbs.

Jackie Helps Design Her Inaugural Gown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy announced Monday that her inaugural gown will be made by Bergdorf Goodman of New York from her own suggestions and sketches.

The wife of the President-elect, who is known for her interest in art and her ability to sketch, said she has sent suggestions to Bergdorf Goodman or style, color and material of the dress. She also sent rough sketches of her own.

The New York specialty store will submit designs to Mrs. Kennedy in accordance with her sketches, it was reported by Mrs. Glady Uhl, Mrs. Kennedy's press spokesman.

Mrs. Kennedy expects to decide on the final model for her dress within a week or 10 days. Andrew Goodman, president of Bergdorf Goodman, declined to comment on the order from Mrs. Kennedy.

He did say his firm has done business with the Kennedy family "for many years."

U.S. Asks Bonn Help Stem Flow Of Dollars, Gold

BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States told West Germany Monday it needs immediate relief to dam the outflow of its dollar and gold reserves.

A 24-man delegation led by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon explained U. S. needs to a German team headed by economics minister Ludwig Erhard, who is credited with enriching this nation through wise investment of nearly $5 billion in U. S. gifts. The atmosphere was reported friendly but subdued.

Details of the talks were not given out. However, informants said Erhard and his team sought to make U. S. appeals for greater West German contributions to foreign aid the center of attention.

The U. S. negotiators were reported wanting to concentrate on proposals to get the Germans to share in the $700-million annual costs of maintaining U. S. forces in Germany.

Bonn has stated its unwillingness to contribute to these costs, contending it would be reminiscent of payments Germany made for the support of U. S. occupation forces from the end of World War II until 1957. It would prefer that any added contributions go to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Although Bonn has expressed a willingness to help Washington out of its balance of payments troubles, it is said to be balking at a reported request for an immediate outlay of nearly $1.5 billion for foreign aid and NATO defense needs.

Bonn wants to pour between $852 million and $909 million into underdeveloped nations over four years.

The United States has indicated a belief the West Germans are trying to operate an export-subsidiary rather than an aid program in planning to get back from underdeveloped nations between 20 and 25 per cent of disbursed funds through the sale of German goods in 1961.

However, the Germans say a large percentage of their planned outlays next year are expected to be spent by underdevlopd nations in the United States.

Bottle Of Deadly Poison Stolen

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A thief who broke into an exterminators' truck in south Philadelphia Monday stole a bottle of poison so deadly that a single drop would mean certain death because there is no known antidote.

The General Sanitation Co., owner of the truck, identified the poison as sodium fluoracetate, an odorless, tasteless fluid with the color and consistency of grape juice.

The company and police warned anyone who finds the bottle not to open it. The company said someone who removed the cap could get a small bit on his hands and fatally poison himself by eating or even smoking a cigaret.

U.S. Man-In-Space Hopes Jolted By Mercury Flop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —America's hopes of rocketing a man into space early next year were dealt a crushing blow Monday by the third straight failure of an unmanned space capsule launching.

One official said the fizzle may have forfeited this nation's last chance to beat Russia in the race to send the first man aloft.

Soviet scientists are believed putting every effort into sending a man into orbit within a few months. They showed they apparently have the capability when they hurled a five-ton animal-laden spacecraft into orbit and brought it back to earth unharmed last August.

A Redstone rocket was to carry the one-ton Project Mercury capsule 130 miles high and 220 miles down the Atlantic missile range Monday. The shot—most important so far in the Mercury program—was to be a vital forerunner of a plan to boost a U.S. astronaut on an identical 16-minute ballistic flight next February or March. A manned orbit flight is scheduled for late 1961.

The Redstone ignited when the countdown reached zero but an automatic sequence system detected last-second trouble and ordered engine cutoff.

Almost simultaneously, a rocket escape tower broke loose from the capsule and shot several thousand feet into the air, spiraling back to the cape and landing about 2,000 feet from the launch pad. The tower is 15½ feet tall and propelled by three small solid-fuel rockets. It jerks the capsule free and gets it safely back to earth in case of a malfunction in the booster.

Mobutu's Men Try To Seize Ghana Envoy

Embassy Attacked; Bloody Battle Rages; Casualties Heavy

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The Congo army of Col. Joseph Mobutu attacked the U.N.-defended Ghana Embassy residence with machine guns and armored cars Monday night in an effort to seize a top diplomat accused of conspiracy against the Congo regime.

There were uncounted casualties, including Mobutu's chief aide, who was reported killed by the U.N. side.

In the midst of a three-hour Monday night battle the U.N. command yielded and agreed to hand over the diplomat, Nathaniel Welbeck, for expulsion from the Congo. But first efforts to remove him, the U.N. command said, were met with Congolese gunfire and the shooting was resumed early Tuesday.

The whole battle area was blacked out and the U.N. said another effort would be made to get the diplomat out in daylight later Tuesday.

The U.N. command accused the Congolese army of violating an earlier truce agreement and said the Congo soldiers continued firing past midnight at the U.N. defending troops.

The U.N. officials said the Congolese soldiers were out of control and refused to obey a ceasefire arranged with Mobutu, the Congo's strong man.

3 To 7 Reported Killed

Gunfire rattled in a wide area around Welbeck's besieged residence. It was defended by 150 Tunisian infantrymen and a squad of Ghana riot police.

Indian Brig. Gen. Indarjit Rikhye, acting chief of the U.N. mission, was turned back once by a burst of Congolese gunfire when he tried to pass through the ring of Congolese soldiers to get Welbeck out.

The Ghana Embassy is on the bank of the Congo River in an elite residential area.

Among the casualties was Mobutu's second in command, Col. J. Kokolo, who was killed, the U. N. Command said, by a Tunisian machine gunner in the U.N. force defending the Ghana residence.

The exact numbers of casualties in the three-hour battle could not be determined immediately. Estimates varied from 7 killed and 7 wounded to 3 killed and 4 wounded. U.N. officials said 2 Congolese were killed.

The U.N. Command finally announced it is bowing to Mobutu's demand for expulsion of Welbeck. He is accused by Mobutu of plotting to reinstate deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Defied Expulsion Order

Welbeck had defied the expulsion order, and the U.N. Command —trying to remain neutral in a bilateral scrap between Ghana and Mobutu's Congo regime—had previously refused to help Mobutu oust Welbeck.

Initial efforts by U.N. officials to escort Welbeck from his residence were met with a burst of gunfire from Congolese troops who apparently were unaware of the U.N. decision.

While the battle was on Brig. Rikhye returned from the area with word that Col. Kokolo was killed by the Tunisian gunner.

Holding up Kokolo's shoulder straps, Rikhye told newsmen, "this shows how little control Mobutu has over his army. He promised me there would be a ceasefire and I believed him. But the firing continues."

At the outset, the Congolese army—frequently described by some U.N. officials as a disorganized rabble—threw a ring of steel around Welbeck's residence and opened fire after Tunisian infantrymen had dug in with rifles loaded and at the ready.

Forty-five minutes later, Tuni-

Norstad is supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe. Speaking to the annual NATO parliamentarians' conference, he said "there should be a basic pool of atomic weapons with an equal voice in control of these weapons."

U.S. Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson was in the audience.

Johnson had assured the some 200 parliamentarians that the recent U.S. election was in no way "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

"First Secretary" Plan Spurned By Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposal for a "first secretary" of the government, to act in the role of an American prime minister, was rejected Monday by a Senate group.

The turndown came from Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and the staff of his Senate subcommittee on national policy-making machinery.

The effect was to pour cold water on a plan which President Eisenhower has been expected to recommend.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who headed Eisenhower's advisory committee on government organization, advanced the idea of a supersecretary to exercise delegated presidential authority on all national security affairs "at the prime ministerial level."

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other witnesses before Jackson's committee endorsed the general idea earlier this year. Herter, however, said the secretary of state should be the official who should have "clear primacy" in policy decisions affecting security.

Sen. Jackson issued a report of the committee staff.

It analyzed the first-secretary plan and said: "Our governmental machinery has no place for a first secretary."

"Super - Cabinet officers or above - the - department superstaffs would not ease the problems now faced by a president in setting and maintaining our national course," Jackson said.

Auto Death Trap For Family Of Seven

Seven Killed In Each Of Four Car Accidents

By The Associated Press

A rash of family-erasing car accidents has marred the nation's safety record in advance of the four-day Thanksgiving Day weekend starting Thursday.

Four separate accidents in the last 10 days killed 28 persons and virtually wiped out three families. The tragedies prompted the National Safety Council to issue a caution warning to all motorists.

By grisly coincidence, each of the four accidents killed seven persons each.

The first fatal stroke of seven in the current series was sounded Nov. 11 when Richard Childester, 29; his wife, Evelyn, 25, and five other members of their family were returning home after visiting their youngest son, Tommy, 1, ill with virus in a hospital at Aurora, Ill. Police were told a trailer-truck collided with another car, jack-knifed and tumbled onto their car, crushing them to death. Tommy was the only survivor.

Then, seven days later the Rev. John Eastman, 29, a Presbyterian minister in southern Minnesota, loaded his six children into the family car and started out from their Lewiston home to visit a friend in a nearby city while his wife attended a school class play. They were killed when the car struck a bridge abutment.

The entire family of Howard R. Lemons, 39, an Oregon lumber company executive, drowned, presumably Sunday, when their car slid past a guard rail near Eugene, Ore., during a rainstorm. Searchers found their car under water Monday in Dexter Lake. Other victims were Mrs. Lemons, 35, and their five children.

Monday, seven persons died when a train struck a car at a crossing in Toltec, Ariz. The dead were identified as Mrs. Annabelle Martin, her brother-in-law, and her young son and Mrs. Ralph Jewel and her two sons. The families lived on a ranch south of Toltec.

Texas GOP Vote Probe Bid Denied

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson Monday night denied a Republican request for a statewide investigation of what the GOP called 'frauds and irregularities" in the Nov. 8 presidential election in Texas.

Wilson, however, did grant a test inquiry into the balloting of 34 precincts in Wichita County. A Republican spokesman called Wilson's action an effort to "sweep the matter under the rug and forget it."

The district court in Wichita County, Wilson said, could determine "whether this is the type and kind of fraud" that would authorize him to probe further.

Wilson said he wanted to make it clear that by his action "I am not saying this constitutes constructive fraud." During his conference with Republican attorneys, he indicated he did not think it was.

Kennedy Will Slash White House Staff

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy expects to wipe out the powerful post of assistant to the president and to slash the White House staff sharply.

Kennedy's chief liaison man with the Eisenhower administration, Clark M. Clifford, outlined the prospects to newsmen after all-day sessions with Kennedy.

Clifford said there has been no discussion of a heavy cut or big overturn down the line through the various government departments and agencies.

Clifford said Theodore Sorensen, 32, will come closest to performing the duties now handled by the assistant to the president.

Clifford said, however, he would rather not comment on whether Sorensen will become the ranking member of the White House staff.

The title Kennedy has listed for Sorensen is that of special counsel. He could very well wind up with the unofficial designation as assistant president, corresponding to the role of Harry L. Hopkins in the Roosevelt administration.

Through the years, Sorensen probably has been closer to Kennedy than any other person, in launching and helping direct the campaign that will put Kennedy in the White House Jan. 20.

Wilton B. Persons now is the assistant to President Eisenhower. Before him it was Sherman Adams, who resigned under Congressional attacks that he accepted favors in returns for favors.

In the Truman administration John R. Steelman held the position.

Supreme Court Sets Apportion Fight Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court, in what could be a historic step, Monday entered the fight by metropolitan areas to cut down the disproportionate voting power of rural voters.

Specifically, the court agreed to look into the refusal of the Tennessee Legislature to reapportion seats in the state legislature since 1901.

If the court later decides, after hearing arguments on both sides, to rule on the controversy it could have nationwide repercussions. Similar situations of disparity in relative voting power between rural and metropolitan areas exist in many states.

The Tennessee constitution requires reapportionment of the General Assembly every 10 years by counties or districts according to the number of qualified voters.

The litigation was brought by a group of voters living in metropolitan areas in Tennessee, including Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville.

Through the years, the Supreme Court has handed down numerous decisions refusing to interfere with districts laid out by the states.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers filed a brief supporting efforts to compel a reapportionment of legislative districts in Tennessee.

The institute said that in the last two decades the United States has become predominantly urban, with more than two-thirds of the population living in cities and suburbs.

Jackie Helps Design Her Inaugural Gown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy announced Monday that her inaugural gown will be made by Bergdorf Goodman of New York from her own suggestions and sketches.

The wife of the President-elect, who is known for her interest in art and her ability to sketch, said she has sent suggestions to Bergdorf Goodman or style, color and material of the dress. She also sent rough sketches of her own.

The New York specialty store will submit designs to Mrs. Kennedy in accordance with her sketches, it was reported by Mrs. Glady Uhl, Mrs. Kennedy's press spokesman.

Mrs. Kennedy expects to decide on the final model for her dress within a week or 10 days. Andrew Goodman, president of Bergdorf Goodman, declined to comment on the order from Mrs. Kennedy.

He did say his firm has done business with the Kennedy family "for many years."

U.S. Asks Bonn Help Stem Flow Of Dollars, Gold

BONN, Germany (AP) — The United States told West Germany Monday it needs immediate relief to dam the outflow of its dollar and gold reserves.

A 24-man delegation led by Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon explained U. S. needs to a German team headed by economics minister Ludwig Erhard, who is credited with enriching this nation through wise investment of nearly $5 billion in U. S. gifts. The atmosphere was reported friendly but subdued.

Details of the talks were not given out. However, informants said Erhard and his team sought to make U. S. appeals for greater West German contributions to foreign aid the center of attention.

The U. S. negotiators were reported wanting to concentrate on proposals to get the Germans to share in the $700-million annual costs of maintaining U. S. forces in Germany.

Bonn has stated its unwillingness to contribute to these costs, contending it would be reminiscent of payments Germany made for the support of U. S. occupation forces from the end of World War II until 1957. It would prefer that any added contributions go to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Although Bonn has expressed a willingness to help Washington out of its balance of payments troubles, it is said to be balking at a reported request for an immediate outlay of nearly $1.5 billion for foreign aid and NATO defense needs.

Bonn wants to pour between $852 million and $909 million into underdeveloped nations over four years.

The United States has indicated a belief the West Germans are trying to operate an export-subsidiary rather than an aid program in planning to get back from underdeveloped nations between 20 and 25 per cent of disbursed funds through the sale of German goods in 1961.

However, the Germans say a large percentage of their planned outlays next year are expected to be spent by underdevlopd nations in the United States.

Bottle Of Deadly Poison Stolen

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A thief who broke into an exterminators' truck in south Philadelphia Monday stole a bottle of poison so deadly that a single drop would mean certain death because there is no known antidote.

The General Sanitation Co., owner of the truck, identified the poison as sodium fluoracetate, an odorless, tasteless fluid with the color and consistency of grape juice.

The company and police warned anyone who finds the bottle not to open it. The company said someone who removed the cap could get a small bit on his hands and fatally poison himself by eating or even smoking a cigaret.

U.S. Man-In-Space Hopes Jolted By Mercury Flop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —America's hopes of rocketing a man into space early next year were dealt a crushing blow Monday by the third straight failure of an unmanned space capsule launching.

One official said the fizzle may have forfeited this nation's last chance to beat Russia in the race to send the first man aloft.

Soviet scientists are believed putting every effort into sending a man into orbit within a few months. They showed they apparently have the capability when they hurled a five-ton animal-laden spacecraft into orbit and brought it back to earth unharmed last August.

A Redstone rocket was to carry the one-ton Project Mercury capsule 130 miles high and 220 miles down the Atlantic missile range Monday. The shot—most important so far in the Mercury program—was to be a vital forerunner of a plan to boost a U.S. astronaut on an identical 16-minute ballistic flight next February or March. A manned orbit flight is scheduled for late 1961.

The Redstone ignited when the countdown reached zero but an automatic sequence system detected last-second trouble and ordered engine cutoff.

Almost simultaneously, a rocket escape tower broke loose from the capsule and shot several thousand feet into the air, spiraling back to the cape and landing about 2,000 feet from the launch pad. The tower is 15½ feet tall and propelled by three small solid-fuel rockets. It jerks the capsule free and gets it safely back to earth in case of a malfunction in the booster.

Mobutu's Men Try To Seize Ghana Envoy

Embassy Attacked; Bloody Battle Rages; Casualties Heavy

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—The Congo army of Col. Joseph Mobutu attacked the U.N.-defended Ghana Embassy residence with machine guns and armored cars Monday night in an effort to seize a top diplomat accused of conspiracy against the Congo regime.

There were uncounted casualties, including Mobutu's chief aide, who was reported killed by the U.N. side.

In the midst of a three-hour Monday night battle the U.N. command yielded and agreed to hand over the diplomat, Nathaniel Welbeck, for expulsion from the Congo. But first efforts to remove him, the U.N. command said, were met with Congolese gunfire and the shooting was resumed early Tuesday.

The whole battle area was blacked out and the U.N. said another effort would be made to get the diplomat out in daylight later Tuesday.

The U.N. command accused the Congolese army of violating an earlier truce agreement and said the Congo soldiers continued firing past midnight at the U.N. defending troops.

The U.N. officials said the Congolese soldiers were out of control and refused to obey a cease-fire arranged with Mobutu, the Congo's strong man.

3 To 7 Reported Killed

Gunfire rattled in a wide area around Welbeck's besieged residence. It was defended by 150 Tunisian infantrymen and a squad of Ghana riot police.

Indian Brig. Gen. Indarjit Rikhye, acting chief of the U.N. mission, was turned back once by a burst of Congolese gunfire when he tried to pass through the ring of Congolese soldiers to get Welbeck out.

The Ghana Embassy is on the bank of the Congo River in an elite residential area.

Among the casualties was Mobutu's second in command, Col. J. Kokolo, who was killed, the U. N. Command said, by a Tunisian machine gunner in the U.N. force defending the Ghana residence.

The exact numbers of casualties in the three-hour battle could not be determined immediately. Estimates varied from 7 killed and 7 wounded to 3 killed and 4 wounded. U.N. officials said 2 Congolese were killed.

The U.N. Command finally announced it is bowing to Mobutu's demand for expulsion of Welbeck. He is accused by Mobutu of plotting to reinstate deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Defied Expulsion Order

Welbeck had defied the expulsion order, and the U.N. Command—trying to remain neutral in a bilateral scrap between Ghana and Mobutu's Congo regime—had previously refused to help Mobutu oust Welbeck.

Initial efforts by U.N. officials to escort Welbeck from his residence were met with a burst of gunfire from Congolese troops who apparently were unaware of the U.N. decision.

While the battle was on Brig. Rikhye returned from the area with word that Col. Kokolo was killed by the Tunisian gunner.

Holding up Kokolo's shoulder straps, Rikhye told newsmen, "this shows how little control Mobutu has over his army. He promised me there would be a cease-fire and I believed him. But the firing continues."

At the outset, the Congolese army—frequently described by some U.N. officials as a disorganized rabble—threw a ring of steel around Welbeck's residence and opened fire after Tunisian infantrymen had dug in with rifles loaded and at the ready.

Forty-five minutes later, Tuni-

B&O's Stockholders Informed C&O Balks At Merger, Seeks Only Control

BALTIMORE (AP) — Stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad were told Monday the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway had refused to agree to merger of the two companies and instead seemed interested only in control of the B&O.

Howard E. Simpson, president of the B&O, told the company's 134th annual meeting that the situation had led to studies of merger benefits that might come from consolidation with the New York Central system.

However, Simpson repeated previous statements that he viewed a three-way merger as the best solution to financial problems of eastern railroads and said the C&O would be "a welcome addition at any time" to the B&O-NYC studies.

Previous discussions with the C&O regarding full merger have stalled, he said, because the C&O declined to assume B&Os' $434.5 million debt.

Jervis Langdon Jr., B&O vice president and general counsel, told stockholders the C&O has talked merger to the public "but in actually dealing with us has not come through with a firm offer."

William R. Crawford of New Canaan, Conn., who identified himself as a lawyer with 7,500 shares of B&O stock, called Langdon's statement "amazing . . you charge these people with telling the public something they don't mean."

"These charges are astounding," said Crawford, who told the meeting he hoped the B&O board would push toward immediate merger with the C&O.

Simpson said B&O's initial recommendation on a stock exchange offer from C&O was on the basis of an immediate merger. But, he said, later talks showed the C&O "was talking about years."

Whether a merger agreement between the NYC and the B&O will result from current joint operational studies, he said, would depend what information is gained "and the practicability of arriving at terms that would be of advantage to the security holders of the B&O."

The C&O last June offered to exchange one share of its common stock for each share of B&O preferred, and one C&O common for each 1¾ share of B&O common.

The NYC countered two weeks later by offering B&O stockholders 1½ shares of its common for each share of B&O common, plus $9 in cash.

Both offers, after extensions, now are scheduled to expire Dec. 14. C&O has said it has received tenders from some 30 per cent of the B&O shareholders accepting its offer. The NYC has not said how many B&O stockholders have indicated acceptance of its offer.

The merger debate arose after the B&O directors announced they would delay until next month a decision on the company's 1961 dividend payments.

Sybert Enters Compact Hassle

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland Attorney General Monday made one of his first moves in the legal wrangling over the controversial Potomac River Compact in Anne Arundel Circuit Court.

The State, in motions signed by C. Ferdinand Sybert, asked the court to prevent the taking of depositions in advance of a formal court test on the validity of the Nov. 8 vote on the compact referendum.

Hyman A. Pressman, attorney for Southern Maryland watermen who oppose the new compact with Virginia and petitioned it onto the ballot, alleges that the referendum was improperly advertised.

Pressman served notice last week that he intended to take "depositions before proceeding" from Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan.

He asked that Finan have all documents relating to advance advertising of the referendum in his office next Monday.

The attorney general said in his motion Monday that Pressman's action was prohibited by rules of procedure.

Ikeda Jubilant After Victory; Plans U.S. Trip

TOKYO (AP) — Elated by the national election victory of his conservatives, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda took the position that Japanese voters have buried Socialist neutralism.

The 60-year-old leader of the Liberal Democrats told reporters he hopes to meet in Washington with President-elect John F. Kennedy. But that probably will be next year.

Ikeda and his party pitched their campaign squarely on the new security treaty with the United States — violently opposed by the Socialists—and prosperity at home.

Official returns from Sunday's parliamentary elections gave the Liberal Democrats 296 seats in the 467-seat House of Representatives, a gain of 13; the Socialists 145, a gain of 23; the middle road Democratic Socialists 17, a loss of 23; and the Communists three, a gain of two. Independents got five and the Agrarian party one.

Cheerful and relaxed, Ikeda told a news conference that the vote proves the Japanese people support the new security treaty with the United States.

Violent leftist demonstrations against the pact forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's goodwill visit last June.

The Diet was dissolved and the general election was called to ask for a mandate on the pact, which provides bases for U.S. forces in Japan for at least 10 more years.

All members of Ikeda's Cabinet were returned, including Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka and the welfare minister, Mrs. Masa Nakayama. Mrs. Nakayama is Japan's first woman minister.

Air Force Launches, Recovers Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force launched a 500-pound space capsule to an altitude of 32 miles Monday and brought it safely back with the aid of a drag balloon and a parachute.

The launching, from Santa Rosa Island, Fla., was the second successful test of a new high altitude device for the recovery of missile nose cones or of escape capsules and space vehicles returning from orbit.

The new system, dubbed ballute, was developed by Goodyear Aircraft Corp. for the Air Research and Development Command.

The heavy capsule was launched by a three-stage missile consisting of two Nike booster rockets with a Cree rocket as the third stage.

sian reinforcements moved into the area as tracer bullets flashed through the palm trees.

A high U. N. official called the shooting a tragic mistake.

The U. N. Command said Maj. Gen. Henry T. Alexander, British chief of staff of the Ghana army, arrived in Leopoldville two hours before the shooting began, with a Russian Ilyushin plane to take Welbeck out of the Congo. Welbeck kept insisting he had no intention of leaving, Congolese sources said.

Weary U. N. officials openly feared the shooting might spread to other parts of the Congo capital and bring a major conflict between the Congolese troops and U. N. peace-keeping forces.

The battle at the Ghana residence was the first between the blue-helmeted U.N. troops and the Congolese army.

In any case, the battle widened the rift between the U. N. command and Mobutu.

Union Chiefs Want Labor Man In Kennedy Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP — Labor union leaders are pressing President-elect John F. Kennedy to put a union man in the Cabinet.

They feel the time has come for unions again to have representation at the top government level. This, they suggest, could be accomplished by putting one of their number in as secretary of labor or in some other Cabinet post.

What the unions chiefs really want — and feel they deserve on the basis of organized labor support for the Democrats—is a major voice in the new administration.

Kennedy is to confer here Wednesday with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and possibly other federation leaders.

The conference was announced as a discussion of unemployment problems. But more likely it will be a session to work out an understanding of the whole relationship between Kennedy and organized labor during his administration.

During President Eisenhower's eight years, organized labor felt it was frozen out, that business was calling all the shots and that labor's views never had a chanec to be considered.

They want to make sure that labor recommendations are weighed along with recommendations from other sectors of American life. The labor chiefs feel they have something to offer on almost all the nation's problems.

It is argued by even some labor leaders that there is too much potential conflict in the Labor Department post for union man to fill it. How, they ask, can union men be loyal both to the administration to his fellow unionists?

Dorchester Politician Dies While Hunting

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—W. Grason Winterbottom, 48, Dorchester County politician, died Monday while goose hunting near here.

Winterbottom, vice president and treasurer of the Phillips Hardware Co. Inc., and E. Bayly Orem had nearly completed a day of hunting on the farm of Milton Malkus when Winterbottom keeled over. He was pronounced dead at Cambridge-Maryland Hospital.

Winterbottom was the son of a leader in Dorchester County politics. His father, W. Grason Winterbottom, led one faction of the Democratic Party in the county against that of Emerson B. Harrington, former Maryland governor, leader of another faction.

The political "feud" was passed on to their sons but several years ago Winterbottom and Emerson B. Harrington Jr. joined forces.

Martin Directors Approve Stock Split

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Board of Directors of the Martin Co. Monday approved a two-for-one split of the company's capital stock and increased regular quarterly cash dividends from 40 to 50 cents a share.

The increase, which will boost annual dividends on shares now outstanding to $2 instead of $1.60 as has prevailed for the past several years, will be payable Dec. 21 to stockholders of record on Dec. 2.

The board also recommended that Martin's authorized shares of capital stock be increased from 6 million with a par value of $1 to 12 million without par value.

He will take office Dec. 1, succeeding Dr. Homer J. Stewart.

Ordinary hospitalization programs provide benefits in terms of fixed dollar allowances for certain types of services. B&O's Stockholders Informed C&O Balks At Merger, Seeks Only Control

BALTIMORE (AP) — Stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad were told Monday the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway had refused to agree to merger of the two companies and instead seemed interested only in control of the B&O.

Howard E. Simpson, president of the B&O, told the company's 134th annual meeting that the situation had led to studies of merger benefits that might come from consolidation with the New York Central system.

Ikeda Jubilant After Victory; Plans U.S. Trip

TOKYO (AP) — Elated by the national election victory of his conservatives, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda took the position that Japanese voters have buried Socialist neutralism.

The 60-year-old leader of the Liberal Democrats told reporters he hopes to meet in Washington with President-elect John F. Kennedy. But that probably will be next year.

Ikeda and his party pitched their campaign squarely on the new security treaty with the United States — violently opposed by the Socialists—and prosperity at home.

Official returns from Sunday's parliamentary elections gave the Liberal Democrats 296 seats in the 467-seat House of Representatives, a gain of 13; the Socialists 145, a gain or 23; the middle road Democratic Socialists 17, a loss of 23; and the Communists three, a gain of two. Independents got five and the Agrarian party one.

Cheerful and relaxed, Ikeda told a news conference that the vote proves the Japanese people support the new security treaty with the United States.

Violent leftist demonstrations against the pact forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's goodwill visit last June.

The Diet was dissolved and the general election was called to ask for a mandate on the pact, which provides bases for U.S. forces in Japan for at least 10 more years.

All members of Ikeda's Cabinet were returned, including Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka and the welfare minister, Mrs. Masa Nakayama. Mrs. Nakayama is Japan's first woman minister.

Air Force Launches, Recovers Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force launched a 500-pound space capsule to an altitude of 32 miles Monday and brought it safely back with the aid of a drag balloon and a parachute.

The launching, from Santa Rosa Island, Fla., was the second successful test of a new high altitude device for the recovery of missile nose cones or of escape capsules and space vehicles returning from orbit.

The new system, dubbed ballute, was developed by Goodyear Aircraft Corp. for the Air Research and Development Command.

The heavy capsule was launched by a three-stage missile consisting of two Nike booster rockets with a Cree rocket as the third stage.

sian reinforcements moved into the area as tracer bullets flashed through the palm trees.

A high U. N. official called the shooting a tragic mistake.

The U. N. Command said Maj. Gen. Henry T. Alexander, British chief of staff of the Ghana army, arrived in Leopoldville two hours before the shooting began, with a Russian Ilyushin plane to take Welbeck out of the Congo. Welbeck kept insisting he had no intention of leaving, Congolese sources said.

Weary U. N. officials openly feared the shooting might spread to other parts of the Congo capital and bring a major conflict between the Congolese troops and U. N. peace-keeping forces.

The battle at the Ghana residence was the first between the blue-helmeted U.N. troops and the Congolese army.

In any case, the battle widened the rift between the U. N. command and Mobutu.

Union Chiefs Want Labor Man In Kennedy Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP — Labor union leaders are pressing President-elect John F. Kennedy to put a union man in the Cabinet.

They feel the time has come for unions again to have representation at the top government level. This, they suggest, could be accomplished by putting one of their number in as secretary of labor or in some other Cabinet post.

What the unions chiefs really want — and feel they deserve on the basis of organized labor support for the Democrats—is a major voice in the new administration.

Kennedy is to confer here Wednesday with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, and possibly other federation leaders.

The conference was announced as a discussion of unemployment problems. But more likely it will be a session to work out an understanding of the whole relationship between Kennedy and organized labor during his administration.

During President Eisenhower's eight years, organized labor felt it was frozen out, that business was calling all the shots and that labor's views never had a chanec to be considered.

They want to make sure that labor recommendations are weighed along with recommendations from other sectors of American life. The labor chiefs feel they have something to offer on almost all the nation's problems.

It is argued by even some labor leaders that there is too much potential conflict in the Labor Department post for union man to fill it. How, they ask, can union men be loyal both to the administration to his fellow unionists?

Dorchester Politician Dies While Hunting

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—W. Grason Winterbottom, 48, Dorchester County politician, died Monday while goose hunting near here.

Winterbottom, vice president and treasurer of the Phillips Hardware Co. Inc., and E. Bayly Orem had nearly completed a day of hunting on the farm of Milton Malkus when Winterbottom keeled over. He was pronounced dead at Cambridge-Maryland Hospital.

Winterbottom was the son of a leader in Dorchester County politics. His father, W. Grason Winterbottom, led one faction of the Democratic Party in the county against that of Emerson B. Harrington, former Maryland governor, leader of another faction.

The political "feud" was passed on to their sons but several years ago Winterbottom and Emerson B. Harrington Jr. joined forces.

Martin Directors Approve Stock Split

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Board of Directors of the Martin Co. Monday approved a two-for-one split of the company's capital stock and increased regular quarterly cash dividends from 40 to 50 cents a share.

The increase, which will boost annual dividends on shares now outstanding to $2 instead of $1.60 as has prevailed for the past several years, will be payable Dec. 21 to stockholders of record on Dec. 2.

The board also recommended that Martin's authorized shares of capital stock be increased from 6 million with a par value of $1 to 12 million without par value.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the elevation of Hyatt from deputy director of launch vehicle programs to director of the office of program planning and evaluation.

He will take office Dec. 1, succeeding Dr. Homer J. Stewart.

CONSTANT STABILITY

We have constantly paid 4% dividends on savings for more than 21 years ever since we started business, and while hardly any other savings institution in the United States paid as much because money was "cheap". If and when money becomes cheap again, we believe we will continue to pay 4%.

We do not intend to be swayed by every wind that blows. We do not believe in tinkering with the currency and changing money rates to give business a "shot in the arm". Business needs stability, not "shots". We believe we can continue to pay 4% dividends because we are dealing in home mortgages which are a stable commodity.

High Court Rules Against Drug Chains

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday refused to review a decision that two chain drug stores must cease violations of minimum prices fixed by four manufacturers under authority of the Maryland Fair Trade Act.

Dart Drug Corp. and Peoples Service Drug Stores, Inc., appealed to the high tribunal to review and overturn the decision by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The high court dismissed the appeal with a notation that it involved no substantial federal question.

The Maryland court ruled against Dart and Peoples on complaint of the Four Corners Pharmacy, having a store on the outskirts of Silver Spring, Md. Dart and Peoples have stores in the same area, as well as numerous stores in the nearby District of Columbia.

None of the litigants signed a contract with the four manufacturers to fix resale prices under the Maryland act. Dart and Peoples said the appeal called upon the Supreme Court for the first time to decide if a state may "confer upon a non-signing retailer the power to police his competitors' adherence to so-called fair trade prices."

The four manufacturers whose products were involved did not join in the Four Corners pharmacy complaint.

The Maryland Court of Appeals in deciding against Dart and Peoples commented that two factors militated against aggressive enforcement by the manufacturers of their "fair trade" prices in the Silver Spring area.

It said one factor was the closeness of the area to the District of Columbia, which has no fair trade law and has numerous cut rate stores. The other factor was said to be "uncertainty relating to the effect of giving trading stamps, or the making of similar allowances."

Few Maryland Turkeys Will Be Eaten In State

BALTIMORE (AP) — Most Marylanders will eat turkeys frozen in Virginia, Oklahoma, Minnesota or Oregon on Thanksgiving.

Why not home grown gobblers? They're too big.

The Maryland Extension Service reported Monday that only about 168,000 turkeys were grown in the state this year. There were 743,000 six years ago.

Morris G. Smith of Ellicott City, vice president of the National Turkey Federation, told why.

He said Maryland growers are raising turkeys too large to be sold in supermarkets. They weigh between 25 and 30 pounds and are sold directly to restaurants, and institutions.

Russell C. Hawes, marketing specialist for the extension service, said turkey prices in Maryland will be about the same as last year with the exception of those between 10 and 16 pounds.

The medium sized birds will cost from 43 to 59 cents a pound, he said. The range last year was 39-57.

The price of turkeys under 10 pounds — the nicknamed "Beltsville"—will be from 43 to 59, in the same range as 1959.

Maryland Briefs

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A uniform state tax on cigarets would permit Anne Arundel County to compensate for loss of revenue if it abolished gambling, Del. Whitmore D-Anne Arundel said Monday.

The county now collects taxes on slot machines and bingo.

The Legislative Council has endorsed a state tax of 6 cents on a package of cigarets with half of the money being returned to the counties and Baltimore City.

It has been estimated that Anne Arundel's share would be between half and three-quarters of a million dollars.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's school population is booming way ahead of the national rate.

The Maryland Council on Education reported Monday that the state's enrollment has gone up 74 per cent while the national rate increased 44 per cent between 1950 and 1960.

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Thieves had gas stations as their targets in Anne Arundel County during the week-end.

Police reported that nine stations were robbed of more than $1,000 in tools and equipment and $130 in cash.

WATERLOO, Md. (AP) — Raymond Cole, 22, of Baltimore was killed Sunday night when he was hit by a truck while pushing a disabled car on Washington Boulevard.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Junior Association of Commerce suggested Monday that Maryland increase spending on Mental hygiene by $94½ million in the next 10 years.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Crime Investigating Committee asked Gov. Tawes Monday to investigate what it called "one million dollar rackets, police payoffs and sickening pollutions of the stream of justice."

The private investigating body asked for the probe of the Baltimore city police department.

The expression "truck crops" has no connection with the method of hauling vegetables to market. It derives from the French word "troquer," meaning to barter or exchange. In the United States the term became synonymous with vegetables in general because much produce was once bartered or sold in small lots.

Identical Uniforms For Deputies Urged

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — A proposal that deputies in the 23 counties wear identical uniforms similar to those of the state police will be up for approval at a Dec. 3 meeting of the Maryland State Sheriffs Association.

Charles Price, Washington County sheriff, said the association also will act on a resolution urging that all deputies be under a merit system.

J. Lee Ball of Prince Georges County is president of the association.

Youth Is Acquitted Of Vehicle Charge

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Milton F. Waters, 17, was acquitted Monday of a charge of allowing an unauthorized person to drive his automobile.

Magistrate William F. Dwyer agreed with the defendant's claim he was too intoxicated in the back seat of the car to know who was driving.

The magistrate said intent had to be proven for conviction on the charge.

It arose from an accident in which Frank Witosky, 19, was driving Waters' car. Witosky was fined $5 for not having a license.

Youth Who Slew Father Faces Mental Tests

LA PLATA, Md. (AP) — Christopher Mickler, 16, was indicted for murder Monday in the shotgun death of his father and then was sent to a state mental hospital for examination.

Circuit Judge J. Dudley Digges signed an order sending Mickler to Spring Grove State Hospital. The Department of Mental Hygiene will be asked to determine if the youth is competent to present a defense at a trial.

The swiftly moving legal actions started when the Charles County Grand Jury indicted Mickler after 15 minutes of deliberation.

It charged he "feloniously, willfully and with deliberate and premeditated aforethought" killed his father, S. Albert Mickler, 54.

Sheriff Francis E. Garner said the boy told him he had thought of killing his father for several days.

"I guess I'm just mad at the whole world," the sheriff quoted the youth.

A second income that can grow

Let's suppose you become a shareowner in a company that's well-managed and progressive. And it grows in size and profits. This means that your income from dividends can grow, too. And your stock might grow in value. You have a chance to grow as American business grows.

The growing number of investors

Today more than twelve million Americans are shareowners. In recent years there has been an average of 860,000 new investors annually. Nearly half of them earn from $5,000 to $10,000 a year. The first investments of practically all of them were small.

What about the risk?

Reduce it to a minimum by following these simple rules. Invest only with funds you don't need for current living or to provide for emergencies. Don't risk a penny without the facts. Tips and rumors are never enough. Stock prices fluctuate like the price of anything else.

Easiest and pleasantest of all, select a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange and drop in to get acquainted. The partner or registered representative who serves you there has met the Exchange's rules for knowledge, experience and character. He helps new investors every day. He'll be happy to help you. Delegates Hold the townspeople feel that Route 36 should have priority.

Delegate William Walsh, Delegate Thomas F. Conlon Jr. and Delegate Estel C. Kelley, along with Senator See and Delegate Lester B. Reed, explained in detail the revenue problem involved in the whole road building program, how priorities were set, and that more money will probably be needed.

First Priority

They reminded the Westernport group that the delegation and county commissioners had already agreed that the Westernport area secondary roads be given first priority because of expansion at the paper mill. They also suggested that after the General Assembly meets, a meeting be arranged with the State Roads Commission chairmen and engineers and the Westernport group attend.

C. R. Weatherholt and Angelo Sampson, representing the Typographical Union presented a copy of a proposed law, prohibiting professional strikebreaking organizations from operating in Maryland.

Mr. Weatherholt pointed out that Pennsylvania has had such a law since 1937 and Massachusetts passed one into law October 26, 1960. He further explained that the law has the endorsement of the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference, including AFL-CIO locals, and that unions in all parts of the state are interested.

The necessity for the measure has been made imperative, he said, by action of a publisher in Portland, Ore., who employed a strikebreaking agency to publish his paper, in an effort to destroy the union and impair the welfare and security of its members.

Other Contacts

He told the delegation that the sponsors had decided that they would like the Allegany County Delegation and Senator See to sponsor the new law, although legislators in Baltimore, Annapolis, Hagerstown and other parts of the state are being advised of the proposal.

Within the next two years, Mr. Weatherholt concluded, similar bills will be presented to the legislators in 47 states.

He left copies with Sen. See and the delegation for their study.

Delegate Fred B. Driscoll sent a telegram that he had been detained in Baltimore on business and Delegate Noel Speir Cook sent a telegram that he was trying a case in Hagerstown and could not be present at last night's hearings.

Health, Housing Ordinances Are Adopted Here

Will Help Qualify For Urban Renewal

Two ordinances were read and approved at yesterday's meeting of the Mayor and Council, the action being taken to bring the city a step nearer to qualifying for urban renewal funds.

One of the ordinances, which will become effective December 1, established minimum standards for housing, and the other dealt with health standards for the city.

The reading of the ordinances, which took approximately an hour to read, dominated the otherwise routine meeting.

Must Qualify

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner, asked City Solicitor William R. Carscaden the purpose of the new ordinances, and he explained that they followed recommendations by state agencies under which the city would qualify for urban renewal funds.

Mr. Carscaden added that no new personnel would be needed to implement the ordinances, explaining that the action was a step similar to the council adopting a building code last summer. That also was recommended as a qualifying step for urban renewal funds, Mr. Carscaden said.

In other action, the Mayor and Council approved a request by the Texaco Oil Company for improvement of property at 1200 Virginia Avenue. It was noted that the request had been approved by the city engineer's office and fire department.

The police and fire commissioner was authorized to advertise for bids on a pickup truck for use by the fire department.

Hearing Needed

Referred for future action was an application by Joseph A. and Harry Delton Parker to increase their taxicab fleet by five. Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming explained that a notice of a public hearing on the application must be made 15 days prior to a decision.

In their application, the Parkers noted that they have four taxicabs in operation at present, and that the five requested would materially assist such service in the South Cumberland area. There would be no increase in the city's taxicab fleet, their application noted, since two of the smaller taxi firms have gone out of business.

SCS Employes Meet In Frederick

Full time employes of the Soil Conservation Service office here are planning to attend a training program today from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Winchester Hall at Frederick.

Land Saving Plans Due For Airing

Agricultural conservation practices for 1961 will be discussed tomorrow afternoon during a meeting of an Allegany County conservation program development group.

Bradye H. Dolly, chairman of the Allegany Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program said the meeting will begin at 1 p. m. in the local ASC office, 37 Washington Street.

The group will determine what practices will be adopted during the year from the Maryland handbook.

Among the 21 practices are improving vegetation cover on permanent pasture with the use of fertilizer, contour strip cropping, tile and open drainage ditches, tree planting and forest improvement, seeding land not suited to cultivation with grass and clover.

Two Employes Are Added To Social Security Staff

Two new members have been added to the local staff of the Social Security Administration, according to Walter Campbell, manager.

Joining the staff are Charles F. Lufkin and Alfred Howard. Campbell explaining that the change has resulted from increased operations out of the local office.

Lufkin, who comes here from the administration's central office in Baltimore, will work as a field representative for the Social Security territory covered by the Cumberland office.

Howard has transferred here as a claims representative, coming from the Clarksburg, W. Va., office where he held a similar post for the past three years.

Campbell said Howard will work in the local office and also process claims in Garrett County, Hampshire County, and the eastern half of Hardy County. Howard had worked out of the Rocky Mount, N. C., office prior to his service in Clarksburg.

Lufkin is a veteran government employe and has been associated with the Social Security Bureau for 10 years. He worked for other government agencies prior to joining the bureau, Campbell said.

Oldtime 'Receipts' Made New

NEW YORK (UPI) — Modern cooks can now make old-fashioned "receipts" work despite non-standardized measurements.

This long-needed service is performed by a new publication of the Girl Scouts, the "Centennial Receipt Book" to mark the centennial birthday of the late Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the Girl Scout movement in the United States.

A measurements chart includes the ubiquitous "tea cup" of grandmother's day, equal to 2-3 of a standard measuring cup. One dessert spoon equals 2 level standard teaspoons, and an "egg-sized piece of butter" adds up to 3 standard tablespoonfuls.

Besides measurements, the booklet includes 19 receipts to make and 13 to "read," such as a turtle soup which begins, "Kill turtle by seven o'clock in the morning and let it drip for at least three hours."

Pineapple Upside-Down French Toast

2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup brown sugar
¾ cup drained, crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon pineapple sirup
1 egg, beaten
⅓ cup milk
4 slices raisin bread

Melt butter in a (8-or-9-inch) square baking dish. Blend in brown sugar and pineapple and spread evenly over bottom of the dish. Sprinkle sirup over pineapple mixture. Combine beaten egg and milk in a shallow pie plate. Dip bread slices, one at a time, into egg mixture, turning them to coat both sides. Place bread slices on top of pineapple mixture. Bake in a hot oven (400 F.) until lightly browned on top, about twenty-five minutes. Let stand in baking dish one minute after removing from oven, then invert dish over a serving platter so bread slips out, sugared side up. Serve immediately.

Yield: 2 servings—2 slices toast per serving.

Blueburgers Score Hit After Game

When the football contingent gathers at your house after the game, be prepared to serve a simple but satisfying meal. You can be certain the gang will be ravenous after an outing!

For most young people and sports-minded oldsters, few foods are more welcome than plump, juicy hamburgers. To score another "touchdown," though, surprise them all with a new and fascinating approach to the All-American food—Blueburgers.

To make Blueburgers, all you need do is prepare your usual good beef patties, adding some minced onion and a little salt. Broil the patties on one side, turn, and brown them slightly on the other side. Then top each burger with a generous spoonful of crumbled American blue cheese blended with an equal amount of butter. Continue broiling just until cheese melts slightly. Serve promptly on toasted, buttered buns.

Orange-Raisin Toast

2 tablespoons grated orange rind
¾ cup orange juice
1 cup granulated sugar
Dash cinnamon
14 slices raisin bread toast

Combine orange rind, orange juice, sugar and cinnamon. Spread one tablespoon orange mixture on one side of each slice of toast. Place toast, spread side up, on an ungreased cookie sheet. Toast under low broiler heat for five minutes. Serve immediately.

Yield: 7 servings—2 slices toast per serving.

Fried Cornmeal Mush

5 cups water
1½ cups cornmeal
2 tsps. salt
1 tsp. paprika, if desired

Bring 3½ cups of the water to the boiling point in a 3-quart aluminum saucepan. Combine remaining water, cornmeal, salt and paprika. Stir into rapidly boiling water. Stir constantly with a long wooden spoon for about 15 minutes, then very frequently for about 30 minutes, reducing heat to cook slowly. Pack firmly into an oiled aluminum loaf pan. Brush top with oil. Press a double strip of 7-in. aluminum foil snugly on top of mush to prevent a crust from forming. Chill. When firm, unmold, slice ½-in. thick, and fry to a golden brown on a heat-controlled electric aluminum griddle. Serve with butter and boysenberry jam or honey. (Griddle fried little sausages and eggs are excellent team-mates.)

Leftover Ham Used In Slaw

Left-overs may be a boon instead of a problem to a resourceful cook. Instead of indicating waste, left-over meat actually spells economy and the thrifty homemaker will frequently purchase a meat cut with the idea of serving it for more than one meal.

Ham is especially well adapted for use in this way. There are so many tasty ways to serve it. Sliced cold ham for sandwiches, creamed ham on toast or in pastry shells, or combined with vegetables are a few ideas.

Still another suggestion is to combine diced, cooked ham with cabbage and other vegetables to make a crisp, appetizing ham slaw. On a busy day, it might be prepared ahead of time and placed in the refrigerator for a quick supper main dish.

Ham Slaw

2 to 3 cups diced cooked ham
2 eggs
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
⅔ cup vinegar
⅓ cup water
3 cups coarsely chopped cabbage
1 medium carrot, thinly sliced
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
Cabbage or lettuce leaves

Beat eggs. Add sugar, salt, pepper, vinegar and water. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until mixture thickens slightly, about 2 to 3 minutes. Chill. Combine ham, cabbage, carrot, green pepper and onion. Add dressing and toss together lightly. Serve in lettuce or cabbage-lined salad bowl. Yield: 6 servings.

Don't Let Food Poisoning Spoil Your Thanksgiving

Lots of people get sick after Thanksgiving — many get food poisoning, others overeat.

Stuffing for the turkey causes most of the trouble. Bacteria that cause food poisoning develop very fast in stuffing that is not handled properly, warns Mrs. Judith Pheil, extension nutrition specialist at the University of Maryland.

Stuffing your turkey ahead of time and freezing it invites trouble because stuffing inside a bird takes a long time to reach freezing temperature. During this time, bacteria develop that may cause food poisoning.

If you want to start making the stuffing a few days before Thanksgiving, prepare the broth and refrigerate it. Then prepare the dry ingredients, but don't mix them with broth until just before you stuff the turkey.

Wait until almost time to put turkey in the oven — then mix broth and dry ingredients and stuff the bird. Never stuff the turkey several hours ahead of time. Cook the bird until completely done and to be safe — use a meat thermometer.

In addition to precautions before cooking, there's the problem of left over turkey where again bacteria may cause food poisoning. Don't leave the cooked turkey at room temperatures — get it in the refrigerator. Bacteria develop rapidly at room temperatures.

A wise homemaker takes the stuffing out of the turkey before refrigerating, says Mrs. Pheil. Many persons prefer to cook their turkey without stuffing and cook dressing separately. Although dressing also needs proper handling for safety's sake, not stuffing the turkey saves time and labor in both cooking and serving.

There's really no danger if you follow these simple rules to guard against illness from food poisoning.

More Protein — Fewer Calories

Of interest to weight-watchers is the fact that pork, as it is produced and eaten today, contains fewer calories and a higher percentage of protein than previously thought. Newer type hogs and closer trimming of fat by meat packers and retailers account for the change.

Lunch Suggestion

Peppy salmon-dill pickle salad filling spread on buttered slices of whole wheat bread offers an easy, nutritious main stay for lunch—Salmon Dill Pickle Sandwiches. Make these tasty sandwiches for home or at school eating.

Serve them with shoestring potatoes, celery and carrot sticks, fresh fruit and chilled milk. Drain and flake 1 8-ounce can salmon. Measure salmon, ½ cup chopped dill pickle, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, dash of salt and pepper and ¼ cup salad dressing or mayonaise into mixing bowl and blend well. Spread 8 slices whole wheat bread with softened butter or margarine. Spread salmon filling on 4 slices bread and cover with remaining slices. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Test For Cake

A cake is done when it shrinks slightly from the sides of the baking pan or if it springs back when touched lightly with the finger.

Apple Lifter

1 cup milk
½ teaspoon sugar
½ cup applesauce or apple juice
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Vanilla ice cream

Combine ingredients, except ice cream, in pint jar or blender. Shake or blend. Pour into tall glass. Top with ice cream and garnish with a dash of cinnamon or nutmeg if desired. Makes 1 serving.

Rich In Iron

Pork liver outranks all other foods as a source of iron, the mineral which builds and maintains healthy blood and prevents anemia.

Light or bright-colored felt hats can be brightened by sponging with a solution of one cup water and one or two teaspoons of ammonia. Squeeze a soft cloth out of the solution and sponge the nap. Then steam.

Curried Pot-Roast

Something quite wonderful can happen to your meals when you become conscious of flavors and experiment with blending them.

For instance, a touch of curry powder can turn a beef pot-roast into something quite special. It can add that quality of extra-goodness which earns a homemaker a reputation as a good cook.

Curried Pot-Roast

3 to 4-pound arm or blade pot-roast
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 teaspoon curry powder
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup water
2 stalks celery, cut in 1-inch pieces
12 small onions
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut green beans
¼ cup flour

Mix 2 tablespoons flour, salt, pepper and curry powder. Dredge pot-roast with seasoned flour and brown in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water. Cover tightly and simmer 2½ hours. Then add celery, onions and green beans. Cover and continue cooking until meat is tender and vegetables are done, about 45 minutes. Remove meat and vegetables. Measure cooking liquid and add enough water to make 2 cups. Thicken liquid with ¼ cup flour for gravy. 6 to 8 servings.

Apple-Hamburger Balls In Pastry

1 egg
2 cups canned apple sauce
1½ cups herb seasoned stuffing mix
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
½ teaspoon sage
¼ cup shortening
1½ cups sliced onion
¼ cup butter
¾ teaspoon salt
*Pastry
Mushroom Soup Gravy

Combine chuck, beaten egg, and 1 cup apple sauce. Add stuffing mix, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper and sage; mix thoroughly. Form into 10 equal size balls. Saute in shortening, turning to lightly brown all sides. Saute onion in butter until delicate brown; add remaining 1 cup apple sauce, ¼ teaspoon salt. Place an equal amount of apple sauce mixture on each 10 squares of pastry. Place meat ball on each. Moisten edges of pastry with water; draw-up corners over meat ball press edges of pastry together to seal. Place on baking sheet; bake in hot oven 400 degress, 20-25 minutes, or until brown. Serve with mushroom soup gravy. Makes 10.

*Pastry recipe requiring two cups of sifted flour will be sufficient, or if using pastry mix, 2 cups of mix.

Hungry Kids Will Go For Hot Franks

The gang's all here, and they have brought their appetites! When the gang consists of teens or pre-teens, and they've chosen your house as a meeting place, it's well to be prepared with substantial food.

Frankfurters, with mashed potatoes, form a hearty, quickly prepared main dish. Chopped green onion, dairy sour cream and paprika add tempting flavor.

Potato Capped Franks

8 frankfurters
2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
1 cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup chopped green onion
¼ teaspoon salt
Paprika

Cut frankfurters lengthwise, being careful not to cut completely through. Place frankfurters, cut side up, in an 8 by 12 inch baking with ¼ cup mashed potato. Combine sour cream, green onion and salt and spread over mashed potato, using about 2½ tablespoons on each. Bake in a very hot oven (450° F.) for about 12 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Sprinkle with paprika. Yield: 4 servings.

Potato Capped Franks may also be broiled. Place them 3 inches from the heat until browned, 5 to 7 minutes.

Champion Cheeseburgers

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
¼ cup cream
Butter
4 sweet onion slices
¼ cup chili sauce
4 slices process American cheese
4 hamburger buns, buttered

Combine beef, salt, pepper and cream and blend with a fork only until mixed. (Overmixing will cause meat to be compact and less tender.) Form into four patties to fit hamburger buns. Melt a small amount of butter in a heavy skillet over moderate heat. Add meat patties and cook until brown on one side, then turn and continue to cook almost to desired degree of doneness. Top each with a thin slice of onion, a spoonful of chili sauce and a slice of cheese. Cover the pan and continue to cook until the meat is done and the cheese is heated and softened, but not melted. Serve at once on warm buttered buns. Makes 4 servings.

Stretch slippers which combine maximum comfort and warmth with minimum bulkiness have a foam cushion sole, an ankle-hugging cuff and pom-pom trim. The slippers are sized like hosiery.

Toppings For Waffles And Pancakes

It's not at all difficult to lure the members of the family into eating a hearty energy building breakfast when the lure is crisp waffles or smoking pancakes served with a delectable topping. Try any — or all of these:

Spicy Apple Sauce Topping

Combine 2 cups canned apple sauce with 1 tablespoon butter, ½ teaspoon nutmeg and ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Simmer 5 minutes and serve hot over pancakes or waffles. Makes 4 servings.

Cinnamon Apple Slices

Simmer together for 10 minutes, 2½ cups (1 can) sliced apples, ½ cup red cinnamon candies and ½ cup sugar. Heap them hot and fragrant on waffles or pancakes. Makes 4-5 servings.

½ cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 cups crisp corn puffs, regular, presweetened, fruit flavor or cocoa flavor
Marshmallows, large size and miniature
Unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled

Classy Cherry Rolls

Here's an easy idea to dress up any eating occasion . . . whether it be regular meals, a party, or a late evening snack. These Classy Cherry Rolls add a "special-occasion" touch to any dining event, especially that fancy breakfast for guests. They can be served individually, or heaped in a basket to form a conversation piece for your table. They're attractive, tasty and easy to make.

1 No. 303 (1 lb.) can red cherries*
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon almond flavoring
1 package hot roll mix
3 tablespoons soft butter
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons cream

Combine the cherries, sugar, cornstarch and salt. Cook until the mixture is thick and clear, stirring constantly. Add the almond flavoring. Cool. Prepare the hot roll mix according to package directions for rich dough. When the dough is ready for shaping, roll it to a 12 x 8-inch rectangle. Dot with a tablespoon of the butter, fold the dough. Repeat twice. Roll to about ¼-inch thickness. Cut into 2-inch rounds. Place on greased baking sheets. Let rise in a warm place until light, about 30 minutes. Press an indentation in center of each roll. Fill each with the cherry filling. Bake in a moderate oven, 350°F., for 15 to 18 minutes. Make icing by combining confectioners' sugar and cream; drizzle over baked rolls.

Yield: 24 rolls

* Omit sugar if sweetened red cherries are used.

Pizza Burgers

4 hamburger buns
1 pound ground beef
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
¼ cup catsup
1 teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon garlic salt
4 slices process American or Mozzarella cheese
Grated Parmesan cheese

Split buns, butter lightly and toast bottom halves under moderate broiler heat. Meantime form meat gently into patties to fit over cut surface of buns. Do not season. Cook in a small amount of butter to the desired degree of doneness and slip onto toasted bun halves. Blend tomato paste, catsup, oregano and garlic salt and spread over top of hamburgers. Arrange a cheese slice on top, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and place on a shallow baking sheet. Add untoasted bun halves and slip under moderate broiler heat. Heat until cheese begins to melt and bun tops are toasted. Makes 4 servings.

Teen-Age Party Snacks

Teen-age party time means music, dancing, games, fun and plenty of good food. For an after-the-game party, or just getting the "gang" together for some fun is enough excuse needed to get a party under way.

To the teen-age host or hostess the decision of what refreshments to serve is most important. When it comes to a beverage, milk and ice cream or sherbet combinations can't be beat. With a small group, the ingredients can be assembled so everyone can make their own drink. Such refreshments are refreshing and nourishing too, with plenty of milk and other dairy foods—so necessary for the high quality protein, minerals and vitamins they supply.

If you really want to be tops as a host or hostess then serve Champion Cheeseburgers or Pizza Burgers with your choice of milk drink. Just watch these tasty hamburger treats with plenty of seasoning and plenty of cheese disappear practically before your eyes.

Food Photography Is A Specialized Art

By JEANNE LESEMM

NEW YORK (UPI) — Victor Keppler sometimes cooks his photographic models. He'd eat them, too, if he weren't on a diet.

But most cooking at his studio is done by home economists for food companies whose advertising pictures Keppler takes. Clients include some of the most familiar names on grocery shelves.

In an interview, Keppler, a free lance commercial photographer who sometimes gets as much as $2,500 for a picture, discussed the tricks of his trade as they involve food. Most concern cooking methods, not food substitutions.

"We got rid of the shaving cream gimmick (as a substitute for whipped cream or a head on beer) years ago," he explained. "In those days, photographic materials and equipment were too slow. Ice cream turned to soup before you could shoot it."

Ice cream still isn't easy to photograph because today's cooler lights and efficient freezers don't allow it to melt fast enough, he said. But a heated knife blade held close to a scoop of ice cream creates artistic, appetizing rivulets.

Color Creates Problems

Film sensitivity to color also creates problems. Roast turkey that looks marvelous when it's ready to eat may be too brown for the camera, he added. Mashed potatoes, which have no basic shape, design, or body, must be arranged carefully to create hills and valleys for interesting highlights. Spinach is posed with light garnishes so it won't appear as a dark, shapeless blob. Rolls and biscuits may have to be made repeatedly until a batch turns out the right color.

If your fried eggs don't look like a picture, you probably just slipped them into a pan straight from the shell. At Keppler's studio, the white is allowed to set slightly before a yolk is eased into the center. After the yolk sets, it is scooped out and the hollow filled with a raw yolk, which — unlike a cooked one — photographs wrinkle-free.

Cooked foods that lose gloss while standing are coated lightly with glycerine, he said. This doesn't affect flavor or texture and retains a "fresh from the oven" look for as long as necessary.

Has Long Experience

If attractive food ad accessories have ever sent you on an unsuccessful search of local stores, the explanation may lie in another service Keppler offers. On request he redesigns dishes and accessories to display products to greatest advantage.

Such techniques are the result of more than 30 years as a photographer. Keppler estimates he's shot hundreds of thousands of food pictures in that time.

Does all this time, effort and expense to create handsome ads really influence shoppers? Keppler thinks it does. He believes the public prefers the photograph to drawings or paintings.

Keppler, an amateur chef on weekends, says that photographing succulent dishes of food is harder than photographing delectable-looking models, live. Inanimate objects need a "darned good designer, talent and careful planning," he said.

"After all, you can't tell a plate of soup to move one-eighth of an inch."

Peach-Cinnamon Toast

4 slices cinnamon raisin bread
4 teaspoons butter
16 slices canned peaches, drained
2 tablespoons brown sugar, sifted

Spread butter on bread. Arrange four slices canned peaches on each slice of buttered bread. Sift brown sugar over peaches and bread. Place on a shallow pan and bake in oven (450°F.) for about ten minutes.

Yield: 4 servings.

Sherbet Frost

Juice of either 1 orange or 1 lime
2 tablespoons sugar
⅓ cup carbonated water
½ small glass of cracked ice
1 scoop orange, lime or pineapple sherbet
⅔ cup milk

LAMB COMBINATION

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lamb and vegetable casserole is an easy-to-make one-dish meal. Cook 1 pound of ground lamb over low heat, stirring occasionally, until browned. Drain drippings. Combine the meat with a 10-ounce package of frozen mixed vegetables, thawed, salt and pepper to taste, and a 10½-ounce can of condensed tomato soup. Arrange in a greased 1½-quart casserole, top with 2 cups of seasoned mashed potatoes, and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Serves 4.

Wide-mouthed paper pails are a convenience for mixing paint, but it is not a good idea to leave the paint in them overnight. The bottom might drop out. Emptying the pails after each painting session permits a thin film to form on the inside and results in making the pail even stronger.

Richmonders Seen Low On Post Office

The apparent low bidder for the construction of the new post office in Ridgeley has been submitted by a Richmond, Va., couple, Rep. Harley O. Staggers, Keyser, (D-W. Va. 2nd), said today.

They are Wilson C. and Jean McFadden. Other bidders were Linwood Niblett, Onancock, Va.; John W. and Ethel Aldridge, Ridgeley; Russell and Mary Robeson, Cumberland, and Ohio Valley Land Company, Inc., Parkersburg.

Rep. Staggers said the bids are being analyzed by the district real estate officer, K. Wayne Swiger, Clarksburg, and when he is completed with his work the figures will be submitted to the regional office of the Post Office Department in Washington.

The building will be erected on land upon which the Post Office Department has obtained an option to buy.

The successful contractor will purchase the land, located on Knobley Street and Spruce Alley, and then construct the building for himself.

The structure will then be leased to the Post Office Department on a long-term basis.

The Ridgeley Post Office will have 1,426 square feet of interior floor space; a large loading platform, and a parking area.

Air-conditioned, it will be faced with brick on all four sides, and there will be aluminum placed on portions of the front.

Thanksgiving Service Set

The annual Thanksgiving Day service will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in St. John's Lutheran Church. Rev. Russell E. Fink, pastor, will speak on "Come Ye Thankful People."

The theme of the service will be "Harvest Festival."

Rev. Mr. Fink said this marks the second year for the service. Members of the congregation contribute food and clothing which is sent to the National Lutheran Home of the aged in Washington and the Lutheran World Relief.

Arrangements for the service have been made by the United Lutheran Church Women and the Mary Martha Circle. Mrs. Kathryn Ort is general chairman.

Civic Improvements Urged By Chamber

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has suggested a number of proposals by which the downtown business area might be improved in appearance.

In a letter to the Mayor and Council yesterday, Robert C. Petersen, manager of the business group, noted that the installation of the new street lights was a "source of satisfaction" to the business people of the downtown area.

His suggestions, Petersen said, were being offered in order that the business area be improved and thus attract more customers.

The letter said since Cumberland is the major shopping center of the Tri-State area, and a major share of the tax load is carried by the few blocks in question, it is of interest to every citizen that the area be improved.

His suggestions were enforcement of the ordinance requiring sidewalks to be kept clean and the curbs in repair, enforcement of the ordinance forbidding parking on curbs, that a schedule be set up cleaning catch basins, not only downtown, but in all sections of the city.

Also recommended was that a street cleaning schedule be adopted for Centre, Liberty and Mechanic streets, at a time when the thoroughfares can be kept free of cars.

The letter was referred to Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming and Street Commissioner John J. Long.

Council came in for praise from its action on two matters, Mrs. H. K. Gummel, 509 Patterson Avenue, writing to say she felt the council's action on restricting the "trick or treat" time was appropriate.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Silcox wrote to say the Mayor and Council should be commended for the manner in which the city handled the water line break on Decatur Street some months ago.

Council authorized the city auditor to prepare a check for $16.93 for John Haus, a member of the fire department, to cover expenses of attending a Diesel school in Baltimore earlier this month.

Also approved was a check in the amount of $7,990 for the McClug Logan Equipment Company in payment of a new loader device for the street department.

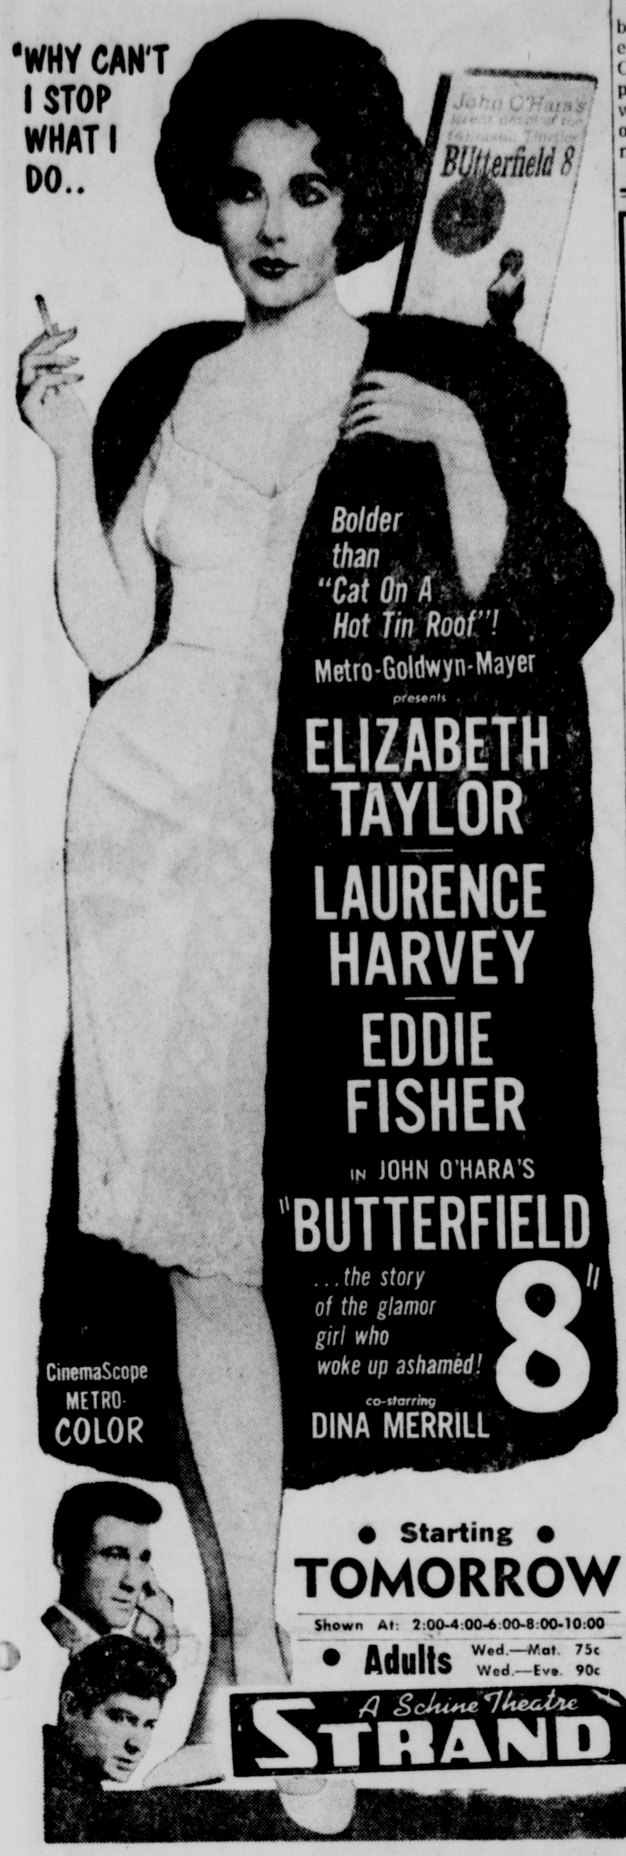

The Valley Structural Painting Company of Harrisonburg, Va., was ordered paid $2,760 for cleaning and painting the North End water tank.

The first concrete street in America was laid in Bellefontaine, O., in 1891. The street is still in use.

Meter Receipts Dip

Harry M. Whisner, city meter inspector, submitted a report to the Mayor and Council yesterday that stated receipts from parking meters for the week ended Sunday totaled $692.70. The amount was $63.66 less than what was reported for the previous week.

Hancock Church Celebrates Anniversary

St. Peter's Began 125 Years Ago

A three-day celebration of the 125th anniversary of the founding of what was once the frontier church in Western Maryland came to a close Sunday in Hancock.

Solemn Mass was held Sunday afternoon in St. Peter's Catholic Church with Msgr. Daniel M. McGrath, pastor of St. Mary's Church Hagerstown, as celebrant.

Rev. Thomas W. Caulfield, pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, Glyndon, deacon, and Rev. Marius Elsener, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul Church, Cumberland, as subdeacon.

The celebration began Friday evening with services and a sermon, and Saturday morning Requiem Mass was offered for the deceased members of the parish.

The history of St. Peter's Church is rooted in the history of Western Maryland. The mother parish, of which St. Peter's became a mission, was a simple log cabin, standing in Hagerstown on land donated by Jonathan Hager in 1777.

Rev. James Fremach, founder and first pastor of the Hagerstown church, oversaw a mission territory that stretched as far west as Cumberland.

His successor, Rev. Dennis Cahil, erected a second log chapel in Cumberland. It was called St. Mary's Church and was the predecessor of St. Patrick's Church.

In 1835, when large numbers of Irish Catholic laborers flocked to the area to work on the construction of the C&O Canal, the present church was built in Hancock.

The parish continued to be a mission of St. Mary's Church, Hagerstown.

During the pastorate of Rev. Stanislaus Ryan, the mission territory was divided and the Hancock church included parishes at Mooresville, Little Orleans and Clear Spring. Father Ryan also conducted a boys' school.

Coming to the church in 1910, Rev. Thomas D. Reinhart held the longest tenure in office of the Hancock parish. A new rectory and Sunday school hall were built under his administration.

During the depression years, non-Catholics as well as parishioners of the Hagerstown area remember the late Msgr. William E. Kelly, native of Cumberland, for his acts of charity when he served as pastor of St. Peter's Church.

Rev. Francis P. Ryan was his successor and the present pastor is Rev. John Kerr.

St. Peter's Church now includes only the mission at Little Orleans.

German Talks And The Gold Crisis

The gold crisis is putting a sharp point on the talks Treasury Secretary Anderson and Under Secretary of State Dillon are having with their opposite numbers of the West German Federal Republic. Not to oversimplify too greatly, the United States wants West Germany to make a larger contribution than at present to economic development of emergent nations and to share the cost of maintaining U. S. troops on West German soil.

This concern for sharing of international responsibilities is not motivated by idealism alone. West Germany has been the principal beneficiary of the drain on U. S. gold. If Germany puts the gold to work abroad it will relieve some of the foreign aid strain on the United States. German contribution to the U. S. troops which form part of the NATO shield protecting West Germany would obviously ease the gold outflow, though perhaps to a lesser degree.

West German gold reserves now stand at the equivalent of $7½ billion, up 40 per cent in little more than a year. In the same period more than $1 billion of our own gold holdings have trickled away, leaving the reserve at $18.3 billion, the lowest level since before World War II.

The Germans have been anticipating our requests, which are by no means new — only more urgent than before. The Bonn regime made headlines on November 13 by announcing a foreign aid program for 1961 calling for the loan and expenditure for the benefit of emergent nations of nearly $1 billion — a total exceeding anything even contemplated until a few weeks ago.

Equally important to us, the loans, credits, and grants will not be tied to West German exports. German officials believe that only a maximum of 25 per cent of their foreign aid funds will find their way back to Germany and that a large part of the remainder will be spent with the United States.

This is a concept which should surprise the skeptics who warn that we are pricing ourselves out of foreign markets.

Campaign For Alger Hiss

It would seem that at this moment there is a renewed campaign in favor of Alger Hiss. The effort is to show that Hiss has suffered martyrdom and is now living in poverty. The inherent appeal in such an article as appears on this subject in "Esquire" magazine, is for compassion and we are a compassionate people.

"Esquire," by caption and the photographic setting as well as the nature of two articles in juxtaposition, shows how Roy Cohn, who had been one of Hiss's adversaries, has prospered. The titles are interesting: "The Problems of Alger Hiss" as contrasted with "The Pleasures of Roy Cohn." Hiss is the man of purpose; Cohn the man of pleasure. Why this contrast is made, it is difficult to understand, as Cohn did not benefit from Hiss's miseries nor did Hiss suffer from Cohn's affluence.

Of Hiss it is said:

"At present, Alger Hiss is selling stationery.

"He lives at a water-front address in New York City in a third-floor walk-up, a sad building with a tattered green awning over a vacant store front piled high with empty cardboard cartons, and next door, 'Harry Feldman, Slop Chest. Supplies/Everything for the Sailor.' It looks like the kind of hideout...that Whittaker Chambers would have picked in his darker days. Last spring the apartment was robbed . . . the total loot was a $25 ring and a $5 pair of cuff links.

"Since last year, he has been separated from his wife, Priscilla."

Of Roy Cohn, it says:

"Roy Cohn is thirty-three now . . . Cohn today is a partner in the New York law firm of Saxe, Bacon, and O'Shea, from which he earns $250,000 a year. He is a major stockholder of The Lionel Corporation, maker of toy trains, fuses, and electronic equipment; a subsidiary manufactures sporting goods and another is a leading producer of missile components. He is a one-third owner of Feature Sports, Inc., which promoted, among other fights this past year, both of the Johansson-Patterson heavyweight championship bouts.

"He is a successful investor in the stock market, owns two middle-sized restaurants of no particular distinction in Manhattan, and holds oil leases in Texas, New Mexico, and Kentucky . . ." etc., etc.

What does this contrast mean? It means that Alger Hiss has taken his downfall with bitterness and resentment; it means that Roy Cohn, who was smeared because of his association with Senator Joe McCarthy and who accumulated a host of enemies, went to work to achieve a personal success. One man who felt he was unjustly treated, lives in the past, resents the present and has no future; the other man has gone ahead.

In these articles, Hiss is painted as a Werther and Cohn as a Till Eulenspiegel. It is an interesting contrast but wholly untrue as to Cohn and I presume, not knowing Hiss, that he will one day be released from his miseries by finding a place for himself in which his talents can still be used in his country's interest.

These tales of two men who took divergent paths may be interesting and therefore they justify some magazine notice. But it is not a true contrast because Roy Cohn's success in business has nothing to do with Alger Hiss's failure as a public servant. Roy Cohn's capabilities are in the fields of law and finance. His father was a distinguished jurist in New York; his grandfather was a banker. He comes by his abilities naturally. Alger Hiss also is a lawyer and as such has had a brilliant start, but he got caught in the Marxism of the 1930's and went to prison therefor. Cohn avoided such entanglements which apparently shocks "Esquire" which quotes Richard Rovere as follows:

"In all probability, Cohn's anti-Communism was somewhat less of a caprice and an improvisation than McCarthy's, for Cohn was Jewish and from New York, and at about the time he came to man's estate and participated in the Rosenberg prosecution, it seemed terribly important to many Jews not only to disassociate themselves from Jewish Communists, but to demonstrate a zealous and fiery anti-Communism . . ."

Jewish participation in anti-Communist efforts antedates the Rosenberg case. I refer to the work of Isaac Don Levine, Eugene Lyons, Ben Gitlow, Benjamin Stolberg, David Dubinsky, myself and many others. These articles in "Esquire" prove nothing except that some folks like Hiss and some dislike Cohn.

It's Time We Shook The Bedpost

President-Elect Kennedy May Bring Some Humor Into The White House

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Not since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt has there been much real humor in the White House. In Truman's day humor was supplied by Gen. Harry Vaughan, but it was the raucous, ribald type not always repeatable. And in the Eisenhower regime there have been smiles, an unending succession of smiles, but not much humor. After January 20 it may be different.

The morning after election, John F. Kennedy woke up to look over the election map of the United States, noted the corn belt, the wheat belt, the sugar-beet areas of the Rocky Mountains, and the great ranch areas of the Northwest all voting solidly against him.

"That makes one Cabinet appointment easy," he said. "Ezra Taft Benson as Secretary of Agriculture. The farmers seem to want him back, so they can have him."

Latin America Admires Porter

It may be that the Rootin'-Tootin' smear campaign waged by an Oregon doctor against Congressman Charlie Porter, No. 1 Congressional enemy of dictators, will turn out for the good of the nation.

Dr. Edwin Durno spent some $40,000 trying to make Porter the blood brother of Khrushchev, Mao Tse-tung and Fidel Castro, and succeeded in defeating him by a narrow margin.

However, the defeated Oregon Democrat is an idol in Latin America where he was among the first to stand up against Dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic when other Congressmen were getting free rides to that country at Trujillo's expense or receiving medals from him. They defended him on the House floor against Porter's attacks.

As a result, when Porter visited Venezuela shortly after Vice-President Nixon was nearly killed by a mob there, Porter was given a tumultuous welcome.

As of today, what the United States needs most is an alert American ambassador to Venezuela, a country next on the list to follow Fidel Castro toward Communism. In Caracas, capital of Venezuela, Communist strength is 8 to 1. As of now Venezuelan Communists are not tied up with Moscow, but could be very quickly. The move to nationalize the great American oil companies of Venezuela is already under sub rosa discussion, and if it ever starts, technicians from Russia and Rumania would move in immediately to operate the American oil properties.

Castroism is slowly spreading through Latin America. But in Venezuela it is spreading at a gallop. The Kennedy administration will have to move quickly to stop it. And the appointment as our ambassador there of the man who battled against the dictators, Charlie Porter, would be one step toward doing it.

That Nixon Lease

Congressman Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem, who got easy treatment from the Justice Department when he came out for Ike in 1956, is now being investigated by the Justice Department. Powell was a strong Kennedy man this election campaign.

FBI agents are now investigating a document which helped swing the Negro vote over to Kennedy — a copy of Vice President Nixon's deed on his new house. It contains a restrictive covenant clause which pledges Nixon as follows:

"No part of the land hereby conveyed shall ever be used, or occupied or sold, demised, transferred, conveyed unto, or in trust for, leased or rented or given to Negroes, or to any person or persons of Negro blood or extraction, or to any person of the Semitic race, blood or orgin which racial description shall be deemed to include Armenians, Jews, Hebrews, Persians, and Syrians, except that this paragraph shall not be held to exclude partial occupancy of the premises by domestic servants of the occupants thereof."

This lease was circulated all over Harlem and referred to repeatedly by Congressman Powell in his speeches. It had definite impact on the Negro vote, which had been reported veering toward Nixon.

However, the lease was circulated anonymously. No name was attached, which according to the Justice Department was against the law. So the FBI is now checking to pin the circulation of the lease on Congressman Powell.

Issue In '52 Campaign

What will happen after that remains to be seen. In 1956, when Powell faced an income tax investigation, he conferred with Nixon, then arranged with Max Rabb, Secretary to the Cabinet, and Charley Willis, former assistant to Eisenhower, to go to the White House, call on the President and then make an announcement from the White House steps that he was supporting Ike. All this he did, though not many Negroes followed him when they went to the polls.

After three years of delay, Powell was finally prosecuted for the tax evasion. The jury failed to convict. Now the FBI is on his trail for circulating the Nixon lease which won so many Negro votes for Kennedy.

Note — in 1952, Nixon's lease was made an issue in the campaign at which time it was explained that he did not know the restricted covenant was in the lease. However, between 1952 and 1960 Nixon purchased a new house and should had been on guard against signing a covenant. He signed it anyway.

His deed was recorded May 21, 1957 in Liber 10853, page 623 in the office of recorder of deeds, Washington, D. C. Significantly, the card index containing the names of the sellers of property and the pages at which the deeds are recorded do not include Nixon's name. This makes it harder to find. However, the deed is there just the same.

Active President Can Get Congressional Support

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

There is a small but fatal flaw in the currently popular theory that the Kennedy administration will be hamstrung by a strengthened conservative coalition in Congress. The theory leaves history wholly out of account.

To be sure, the Republicans have gained two seats in the Senate and more than a score of seats in the House. On paper, the coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats has thus been somewhat strengthened. This might be significant, if John F. Kennedy were a left-wing version of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A passive, nearly hortatory President can always be obstructed by Congress. But an active and determined President, so history shows, can usually count upon getting Congress to do what he wants in the end.

The 80th Congress was totally dominated by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. What President Truman really wanted from the 80th Congress — the profound reversal of American tradition which laid the foundations of the Western Alliance — was absolutely abhorrent to Taft. But Truman secured the passage of the Marshall Plan and all the other great measures he most cared about, despite Taft's heavy Republican majorities in both House and Senate.

The next Congress will have substantial Democratic majorities in both bodies, despite the recent Republican gains. Whatever else he may be, one may be sure that Kennedy will be active and determined in the White House. And the simple fact that he will be in the White House, using all the resources of persuasion and pressure that belong to the White House, is far more significant than the superficial strengthening of the conservative coalition.

It is entirely possible, of course, that Kennedy himself may strengthen the conservative coalition in a really effective way, by misjudging his own situation. For instance, the liberal wing of the Democratic party with its strange passion for empty shibboleths, is already clamoring for immediate revision of Senate Rule 22, concerning cutting off filibusters by cloture.

This is known to have been one of the key subjects discussed by the President-elect and Vice President-elect at their get-together at Lyndon Johnson's ranch. What conclusions they reached, if any, are not known as yet. But it is easy to know the Congressional situation, and how it will be affected by an immediate assault on Rule 22.

If Kennedy authorizes such an assault, all the Senators and Representatives from all the Southern states, including the states that voted for Kennedy, will at once be solidified into a rigid opposition bloc. Then the conservative coalition may really count for something.

But Kennedy is not much of a shibboleth man. Hence it seems much more likely that he will deal with the civil rights problem in a practical, factual manner. From the outset, in other words, he will use to the full the existing executive powers, which President Eisenhower has left quite largely unused. He will also use to the full the moral authority of the White House, which President Eisenhower has left almost wholly unused.

Great progress can certainly be made in this way. If the resulting progress is unsatisfactory, legislation can be requested. And if the existing Senate rules then prevent passage of that legislation, it will be time to think about amending the rules.

Meanwhile, it is also important to note the signs that steps will very probably be taken to break the conservative coalition's deathgrip on the House Rules Committee. A change of a single Democratic member of the Rules Committee, which can be voted by the House Democratic caucus, will be enough to break the deathgrip. Such a change, if made, will more than nullify the effect of the modest Republican gains in House and Senate.

In one form or another, all but one of the prime items of the Kennedy social program have already passed the Senate. Even Kennedy's proposal for medical care for the aged under Social Security was only beaten in the Senate by a hair-line majority. The conservative majority in the House Rules Committee, and the threat of an Eisenhower veto, are the only reasons why these measures are not already on the statute books. These reasons will not exist in the next Congress.

Even so, unfortunately, the really crucial question is still unanswerable. It has little to do with the election results or the Kennedy social program. It is the question whether the country will respond with energy and courage to a true picture of the national situation, when Kennedy is able to present the ugly facts from the great rostrum of the White House.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

VOTE ON SUNDAY?—Now that the elections are over, some deep thinkers in Washington are advocating a change in the day for voting.

They favor a separate day for voting on national offices to prevent extraneous issues and personalities from diluting the will of the public.

Political pros know that weak or strong local or state ticket can have a major effect on voting for national offices. They feel that the personal popularity or program of a candidate for state governor, for instance, should not attract votes either toward or away from Presidential, Senatorial or Congressional candidates.

Conversely, an immensely popular Presidential candidate can sweep local office-seekers into power with him. In many instances, these pros have found that the majority of the electorate have regretted this in the cold light of morning.

Objectors declare that the expense and trouble of putting on two political campaigns would make such a plan unworkable.

However, advocates reply that the elections dates need only be days apart. They suggest that Presidential and national office voting could take place on Sunday and state and local office elections be held the following Tuesday.

ELECTRONIC BRAIN — Some day in the not-too-distant future an electronic computing machine will diagnose your medical complaints and prescribe for them far more accurately than doctors do today.

Progress on such an electronic device was reported in Washington at a recent conference on electrical techniques in medicine and biology.

A computer was adapted to "read" electrocardiograms with 98 per cent accuracy, far better than that obtained in normal clinical practice. The machine is part of a joint project of the National Bureau of Standards, the Veterans Administration and Georgetown University.

However, the developers of medical automation have far more ambitious plans. They hope to develop a computer into which can be fed patient histories, symptoms, clinical test results, and other pertinent data and have the machine analyze all the factors and come up with the correct treatment.

Doctors themselves have no fears that the electronic monsters of the future will do away with their services. They will only be additional tools to remove the human factor from the diagnosis and treatment of illness and disease.

Image Of America

By John Crosby

"There are three weaknesses of our society which are gravely damaging to our reputation and prestige at large and which cast a dark reflection on the quality of our society," writes John Kenneth Galbraith in "The Liberal Hour." "The first of these is the unhinged and disorderly quality of our urban society and the consequent squalor, delinquency, and crime. These are part of our world reputation for the usual reason that they are well observed by ourselves. We make much of them and we are taken at our word. Hence the unpleasant image of violence and degradation which spreads around the world. . . . This is a problem of American society as it is not of Swedish, Dutch, German, or English cities."

The first thing we must do is to recognize that we have a grave urban problem. The second is to determine to do something about it. The worst possible thing to do about it is to collect forty experts (an expert is a man with a college degree, a small paying official job, and lots of spare time on his hands who can be hired by almost anyone to expertize safely) to write a nine-volume treatise on the subject as was done in "Metropolis 1985." This unwieldy treatise was given respectful notices by reporters and reviewers who, of course, didn't read it. I think we can safely assume that no one will ever read the thing including the forty experts who wrote it and that it will take its place alongside "A Free and Responsible Press," another massive and expensive piece of group journalism which examined the problem from so many aspects, at such lengths, and so drearily that few individuals ever got through it and no one paid the slightest attention to it.

The group opinion of the forty experts was that nothing could be done so it's lucky it will be safely ignored. One Robert Moses with titanic energy and great personal conviction is worth any 2,000 committees or groups of experts. Most of the great cities, and especially the enduring beauty spots of great cities are the results of one forceful individual, never of committees, and rarely of architects. The most recent example is Brasilia, almost singlehandedly brought into existence by President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Napoleon built modern Paris almost by himself. Today one of the loveliest cities I ever saw is Haifa, a gleaming white city which is one of the jewels of the Mediterranean and is largely the handiwork of its Mayor, Abba Khoushi. Conversely, one of the ugliest cities in the world is Tel Aviv because it hasn't got any Mayor Khoushi.

Why are our cities so squalid and depressing? Well, one reason is nine-volume books written by forty "experts" who say that the increasing squalor of American cities is one of the laws of nature like the movement of the stars which cannot be reversed. Mostly, it is because we don't pay proper attention. Again, to quote Mr. Galbraith: "We have given far less attention to the development and improvement of the urban communities than have the European countries. The management of the European city is an opportunity not without its cultural responsibilities and awards. Government in the American city remains a residual function. . . It does what the individual cannot do for himself and not all of that. When a city administration is regarded as a necessary evil, we should not be surprised if it is evil."

I come from Milwaukee, Wisc., and it was there I learned civic probity. Milwaukee with its Socialist Mayor Hoan was traditionally first at many things—first in safety, first in cleanliness, first in crime prevention, first in fire prevention. Milwaukee was both rich and honest, or to put that in proper prospective, it was rich because it was honest. The money went into paving the streets, not into a Tammany Hall. Coming from a city where civic virtue and efficiency is considered not only worthwhile but also possible, I never got over my dismay at a city like New York which accepts civic corruption and inefficiency as an incurable disease of modern civilization.

The first purpose of government is law and order. In New York we have neither the one nor the other. We have a Mad Bomber running loose who has already killed one person and injured many others. We have had a dangerous slow-down of our police force, amounting almost to mutiny. We have had a strike of our teachers. Our parks are unsafe by night and increasingly so, even by day. We have a narcotics problem that is rendering our streets and even our homes unsafe from the ravages of drug addicts who are robbing citizens of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of goods and money annually to satisfy their craving for drugs.

There is not a single one of these problems which cannot be solved by intelligence and energy which are at the moment in very short supply, particularly at City Hall. Mayor Wagner, a great shaker of hands, giver of teas, attender of banquets, an utterer of platitudes, seems unaware of the scope of city problems or, it sometimes seems, that it has any. He has no solutions nor, it appears, has he looked for any.

There is no more rewarding or fulfilling civic duty I can think of than cleaning up and rebuilding our great cities, especially New York. The image of a nation is contained in the reflecting glass of its great cities. England is mirrored in London, France in Paris, Italy in Rome, Denmark in Copenhagen. As a nation we simply cannot afford the image New York is projecting to the rest of the world as typical of our society.

Emphysema, And What Can Be Done About It

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Emphysema is on the increase, if our mail can be used as a criterion. We are receiving more and more letters about this chronic lung condition from readers who are tired of coughing, wheezing, and shortness of breath.

Emphysema (em-fi-se-mah) is a ballooning out of the lung tissues. The condition is best explained by imagining what happens to the air sacs when a person blows hard on a trumpet or saxophone. Emphysema seldom develops in musicians but victims of asthma and chronic bronchitis are ideal candidates.

In these individuals the bronchi are narrowed and inflamed. Air comes into the lungs easily but has difficulty getting out. When expiration begins, the tubes may close completely, acting like a check valve on an auto tire. This obstruction leads to the mechanical stretching of weakened air sacs, which is emphysema.

Lung specialists have noted the widespread association between smoking, asthma, and emphysema, especially after age 50. Tobacco does not cause the disease but aggravates an existing bronchitis that is weakening the air sacs. Improvement often occurs after cessation of smoking but those who continue to smoke usually get worse.

The emphysema sufferer should have a good nebulizer to inhale the medications used for treatment. Epinephrine-like drugs open up the bronchi, whereas enzymes, steam, and other wetting agents liquefy the sputum, making it easier to expel. Antibiotics eliminate infection.

Breathing exercises are helpful in strengthening the accessory breathing muscles such as those of the abdomen. In this way the diaphragm is forced upward which helps the lungs expel the trapped air. Pursuing the lips during expiration encourages the bronchi to remain open.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on breathing exercises in emphysema if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CATCHING

H. T. P. writes: Is it safe to visit a person in the hospital with pneumonia?

REPLY

Pneumonia is a contagious disease and visitors run risk of contracting the infection unless they wear a mask and gown.

SCARRED LUNGS

E. S. writes: Can anything be done about scar tissue in the lungs?

REPLY

No. This condition does no harm unless the scars have replaced most of the working lung tissue.

TUBERCULIN TEST

H. G. writes: Does a positive tuberculin patch test remain positive throughout life?

REPLY

The tuberculin skin test may turn negative after a period of years, even in persons who have arrested or healed lesions.

FIRMING THE TUMMY

E. C. writes: What can be done to help lack of muscle tone of the abdominal wall?

REPLY

Muscles are elastic, somewhat like rubber bands. When overstretched, they lose their tone and tend to sag. Exercise helps most. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on abdominal exercises.

To the limit of space questions pertinent to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

"I come from common stock," confessed Groucho Marx, "and furthermore, in the 1929 Wall Street crash, common stock made a bum out of me."

Groucho recalls "the most sincere compliment" ever paid him. A stout, pleasant faced lady (he never had laid eyes on her before) buttonholed him on a Chicago street and told him earnestly, "Don't die, Mr. Marx. Go on living. While you live, I'll live!"

The girl friend of a farout beatnik singer burst in on him unexpectedly and caught him playing "Stardust" on his guitar. "For Zen's sake, man," she implored, "don't go commercial! You'll wind up being just another Perry Como!"

Do you know what an AAAAA is? None other, avers Bill Kennedy, than an alcoholic who belongs to the Automobile Association of America.

German Talks And The Gold Crisis

The gold crisis is putting a sharp point on the talks Treasury Secretary Anderson and Under Secretary of State Dillon are having with their opposite numbers of the West German Federal Republic. Not to oversimplify too greatly, the United States wants West Germany to make a larger contribution than at present to economic development of emergent nations and to share the cost of maintaining U. The next Congress will have substantial Democratic majorities in both bodies, despite the recent Republican gains. Whatever else he may be, one may be sure that Kennedy will be active and determined in the White House. And the simple fact that he will be in the White House, using all the resources of persuasion and pressure that belong to the White House, is far more significant than the superficial strengthening of the conservative coalition.

It is entirely possible, of course, that Kennedy himself may strengthen the conservative coalition in a really effective way, by misjudging his own situation. For instance, the liberal wing of the Democratic party with its strange passion for empty shibboleths, is already clamoring for immediate revision of Senate Rule 22, concerning cutting off filibusters by cloture.

This is known to have been one of the key subjects discussed by the President-elect and Vice President-elect at their get-together at Lyndon Johnson's ranch. What conclusions they reached, if any, are not known as yet. But it is easy to know the Congressional situation, and how it will be affected by an immediate assault on Rule 22.

If Kennedy authorizes such an assault, all the Senators and Representatives from all the Southern states, including the states that voted for Kennedy, will at once be solidified into a rigid opposition bloc. Then the conservative coalition may really count for something.

But Kennedy is not much of a shibboleth man. Hence it seems much more likely that he will deal with the civil rights problem in a practical, factual manner. From the outset, in other words, he will use to the full the existing executive powers, which President Eisenhower has left quite largely unused. He will also use to the full the moral authority of the White House, which President Eisenhower has left almost wholly unused.

Great progress can certainly be made in this way. If the resulting progress is unsatisfactory, legislation can be requested. And if the existing Senate rules then prevent passage of that legislation, it will be time to think about amending the rules.

Meanwhile, it is also important to note the signs that steps will very probably be taken to break the conservative coalition's deathgrip on the House Rules Committee. A change of a single Democratic member of the Rules Committee, which can be voted by the House Democratic caucus, will be enough to break the deathgrip. Such a change, if made, will more than nullify the effect of the modest Republican gains in House and Senate.

In one form or another, all but one of the prime items of the Kennedy social program have already passed the Senate. Even Kennedy's proposal for medical care for the aged under Social Security was only beaten in the Senate by a hair-line majority. The conservative majority in the House Rules Committee, and the threat of an Eisenhower veto, are the only reasons why these measures are not already on the statute books. These reasons will not exist in the next Congress.

Even so, unfortunately, the really crucial question is still unanswerable. It has little to do with the election results or the Kennedy social program. It is the question whether the country will respond with energy and courage to a true picture of the national situation, when Kennedy is able to present the ugly facts from the great rostrum of the White House.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

VOTE ON SUNDAY?—Now that the elections are over, some deep thinkers in Washington are advocating a change in the day for voting.

They favor a separate day for voting on national offices to prevent extraneous issues and personalities from diluting the will of the public.

Political pros know that weak or strong local or state ticket can have a major effect on voting for national offices. They feel that the personal popularity or program of a candidate for state governor, for instance, should not attract votes either toward or away from Presidential, Senatorial or Congressional candidates.

Conversely, an immensely popular Presidential candidate can sweep local office-seekers into power with him. In many instances, these pros have found that the majority of the electorate have regretted this in the cold light of morning.

Objectors declare that the expense and trouble of putting on two political campaigns would make such a plan unworkable.

However, advocates reply that the elections dates need only be days apart. They suggest that Presidential and national office voting could take place on Sunday and state and local office elections be held the following Tuesday.

ELECTRONIC BRAIN — Some day in the not-too-distant future an electronic computing machine will diagnose your medical complaints and prescribe for them far more accurately than doctors do today.

Progress on such an electronic device was reported in Washington at a recent conference on electrical techniques in medicine and biology.

A computer was adapted to "read" electrocardiograms with 98 per cent accuracy, far better than that obtained in normal clinical practice. The machine is part of a joint project of the National Bureau of Standards, the Veterans Administration and Georgetown University.

However, the developers of medical automation have far more ambitious plans. They hope to develop a computer into which can be fed patient histories, symptoms, clinical test results, and other pertinent data and have the machine analyze all the factors and come up with the correct treatment.

Doctors themselves have no fears that the electronic monsters of the future will do away with their services. They will only be additional tools to remove the human factor from the diagnosis and treatment of illness and disease.

Emphysema, And What Can Be Done About It

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Emphysema is on the increase, if our mail can be used as a criterion. We are receiving more and more letters about this chronic lung condition from readers who are tired of coughing, wheezing, and shortness of breath.

Emphysema (em-fi-se-mah) is a ballooning out of the lung tissues. The condition is best explained by imagining what happens to the air sacs when a person blows hard on a trumpet or saxophone. Emphysema seldom develops in musicians but victims of asthma and chronic bronchitis are ideal candidates.

In these individuals the bronchi are narrowed and inflamed. Air comes into the lungs easily but has difficulty getting out. When expiration begins, the tubes may close completely, acting like a check valve on an auto tire. This obstruction leads to the mechanical stretching of weakened air sacs, which is emphysema.

Lung specialists have noted the widespread association between smoking, asthma, and emphysema, especially after age 50. Tobacco does not cause the disease but aggravates an existing bronchitis that is weakening the air sacs. Improvement often occurs after cessation of smoking but those who continue to smoke usually get worse.

The emphysema sufferer should have a good nebulizer to inhale the medications used for treatment. Epinephrine-like drugs open up the bronchi, whereas enzymes, steam, and other wetting agents liquefy the sputum, making it easier to expel. Antibiotics eliminate infection.

Breathing exercises are helpful in strengthening the accessory breathing muscles such as those of the abdomen. In this way the diaphragm is forced upward which helps the lungs expel the trapped air. Pursuing the lips during expiration encourages the bronchi to remain open.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on breathing exercises in emphysema if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

CATCHING

H. T. P. writes: Is it safe to visit a person in the hospital with pneumonia?

REPLY

Pneumonia is a contagious disease and visitors run risk of contracting the infection unless they wear a mask and gown.

SCARRED LUNGS

E. S. writes: Can anything be done about scar tissue in the lungs?

REPLY

No. This condition does no harm unless the scars have replaced most of the working lung tissue.

TUBERCULIN TEST

H. G. writes: Does a positive tuberculin patch test remain positive throughout life?

REPLY

The tuberculin skin test may turn negative after a period of years, even in persons who have arrested or healed lesions.

FIRMING THE TUMMY

E. C. writes: What can be done to help lack of muscle tone of the abdominal wall?

REPLY

Muscles are elastic, somewhat like rubber bands. When overstretched, they lose their tone and tend to sag. Exercise helps most. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on abdominal exercises.

To the limit of space questions pertinent to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"I come from common stock," confessed Groucho Marx, "and furthermore, in the 1929 Wall Street crash, common stock made a bum out of me."

Groucho recalls "the most sincere compliment" ever paid him. A stout, pleasant faced lady (he never had laid eyes on her before) buttonholed him on a Chicago street and told him earnestly, "Don't die, Mr. Marx. Go on living. While you live, I'll live!"

The girl friend of a farout beatnik singer burst in on him unexpectedly and caught him playing "Stardust" on his guitar. "For Zen's sake, man," she implored, "don't go commercial! You'll wind up being just another Perry Como!"

Do you know what an AAAAA is? None other, avers Bill Kennedy, than an alcoholic who belongs to the Automobile Association of America.

President-Elect Kennedy May Bring Some Humor Into The White House

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Not since the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt has there been much real humor in the White House. In Truman's day humor was supplied by Gen. Harry Vaughan, but it was the raucous, ribald type not always repeatable. And in the Eisenhower regime there have been smiles, an unending succession of smiles, but not much humor. After January 20 it may be different.

The morning after election, John F. Kennedy woke up to look over the election map of the United States, noted the corn belt, the wheat belt, the sugar-beet areas of the Rocky Mountains, and the great ranch areas of the Northwest all voting solidly against him.

"That makes one Cabinet appointment easy," he said. "Ezra Taft Benson as Secretary of Agriculture. The farmers seem to want him back, so they can have him."

Latin America Admires Porter

It may be that the Rootin'-Tootin' smear campaign waged by an Oregon doctor against Congressman Charlie Porter, No. 1 Congressional enemy of dictators, will turn out for the good of the nation.

Dr. Edwin Durno spent some $40,000 trying to make Porter the blood brother of Khrushchev, Mao Tse-tung and Fidel Castro, and succeeded in defeating him by a narrow margin.

However, the defeated Oregon Democrat is an idol in Latin America where he was among the first to stand up against Dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic when other Congressmen were getting free rides to that country at Trujillo's expense or receiving medals from him. They defended him on the House floor against Porter's attacks.

As a result, when Porter visited Venezuela shortly after Vice-President Nixon was nearly killed by a mob there, Porter was given a tumultuous welcome.

As of today, what the United States needs most is an alert American ambassador to Venezuela, a country next on the list to follow Fidel Castro toward Communism. In Caracas, capital of Venezuela, Communist strength is 8 to 1. As of now Venezuelan Communists are not tied up with Moscow, but could be very quickly. The move to nationalize the great American oil companies of Venezuela is already under sub rosa discussion, and if it ever starts, technicians from Russia and Rumania would move in immediately to operate the American oil properties.

Castroism is slowly spreading through Latin America. But in Venezuela it is spreading at a gallop. The Kennedy administration will have to move quickly to stop it. And the appointment as our ambassador there of the man who battled against the dictators, Charlie Porter, would be one step toward doing it.

That Nixon Lease

Congressman Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem, who got easy treatment from the Justice Department when he came out for Ike in 1956, is now being investigated by the Justice Department. Powell was a strong Kennedy man this election campaign.

FBI agents are now investigating a document which helped swing the Negro vote over to Kennedy — a copy of Vice President Nixon's deed on his new house. It contains a restrictive covenant clause which pledges Nixon as follows:

"No part of the land hereby conveyed shall ever be used, or occupied or sold, demised, transferred, conveyed unto, or in trust for, leased or rented or given to Negroes, or to any person or persons of Negro blood or extraction, or to any person of the Semitic race, blood or orgin which racial description shall be deemed to include Armenians, Jews, Hebrews, Persians, and Syrians, except that this paragraph shall not be held to exclude partial occupancy of the premises by domestic servants of the occupants thereof."

This lease was circulated all over Harlem and referred to repeatedly by Congressman Powell in his speeches. It had definite impact on the Negro vote, which had been reported veering toward Nixon.

However, the lease was circulated anonymously. No name was attached, which according to the Justice Department was against the law. So the FBI is now checking to pin the circulation of the lease on Congressman Powell.

Issue In '52 Campaign

What will happen after that remains to be seen. In 1956, when Powell faced an income tax investigation, he conferred with Nixon, then arranged with Max Rabb, Secretary to the Cabinet, and Charley Willis, former assistant to Eisenhower, to go to the White House, call on the President and then make an announcement from the White House steps that he was supporting Ike. All this he did, though not many Negroes followed him when they went to the polls.

After three years of delay, Powell was finally prosecuted for the tax evasion. The jury failed to convict. Now the FBI is on his trail for circulating the Nixon lease which won so many Negro votes for Kennedy.

Note — in 1952, Nixon's lease was made an issue in the campaign, at which time it was explained that he did not know the restricted covenant was in the lease. However, between 1952 and 1960 Nixon purchased a new house and should had been on guard against signing a covenant. He signed it anyway.

His deed was recorded May 21, 1957 in Liber 10853, page 623 in the office of recorder of deeds, Washington, D. C. Significantly, the card index containing the names of the sellers of property and the pages at which the deeds are recorded do not include Nixon's name. This makes it harder to find. However, the deed is there just the same.

Image Of America

By John Crosby

The first thing we must do is to recognize that we have a grave urban problem. The second is to determine to do something about it. The worst possible thing to do about it is to collect forty experts (an expert is a man with a college degree, a small paying official job, and lots of spare time on his hands who can be hired by almost anyone to expertize safely) to write a nine-volume treatise on the subject as was done in "Metropolis 1985." This unwieldy treatise was given respectful notices by reporters and reviewers who, of course, didn't read it. I think we can safely assume that no one will ever read the thing including the forty experts who wrote it and that it will take its place alongside "A Free and Responsible Press," another massive and expensive piece of group journalism which examined the problem from so many aspects, at such lengths, and so drearily that few individuals ever got through it and no one paid the slightest attention to it.

The group opinion of the forty experts was that nothing could be done so it's lucky it will be safely ignored. One Robert Moses with titanic energy and great personal conviction is worth any 2,000 committees or groups of experts. Most of the great cities, and especially the enduring beauty spots of great cities are the results of one forceful individual, never of committees, and rarely of architects. The most recent example is Brasilia, almost singlehandedly brought into existence by President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Napoleon built modern Paris almost by himself. Today one of the loveliest cities I ever saw is Haifa, a gleaming white city which is one of the jewels of the Mediterranean and is largely the handiwork of its Mayor, Abba Khoushi. Conversely, one of the ugliest cities in the world is Tel Aviv because it hasn't got any Mayor Khoushi.

Why are our cities so squalid and depressing? Well, one reason is nine-volume books written by forty "experts" who say that the increasing squalor of American cities is one of the laws of nature like the movement of the stars which cannot be reversed. Mostly, it is because we don't pay proper attention. Again, to quote Mr. Galbraith: "We have given far less attention to the development and improvement of the urban communities than have the European countries. The management of the European city is an opportunity not without its cultural responsibilities and awards. Government in the American city remains a residual function. . . It does what the individual cannot do for himself and not all of that. When a city administration is regarded as a necessary evil, we should not be surprised if it is evil."

I come from Milwaukee, Wisc., and it was there I learned civic probity. Milwaukee with its Socialist Mayor Hoan was traditionally first at many things—first in safety, first in cleanliness, first in crime prevention, first in fire prevention. Milwaukee was both rich and honest, or to put that in proper prospective, it was rich because it was honest. The money went into paving the streets, not into a Tammany Hall. Coming from a city where civic virtue and efficiency is considered not only worthwhile but also possible, I never got over my dismay at a city like New York which accepts civic corruption and inefficiency as an incurable disease of modern civilization.

The first purpose of government is law and order. In New York we have neither the one nor the other. We have a Mad Bomber running loose who has already killed one person and injured many others. We have had a dangerous slow-down of our police force, amounting almost to mutiny. We have had a strike of our teachers. Our parks are unsafe by night and increasingly so, even by day. We have a narcotics problem that is rendering our streets and even our homes unsafe from the ravages of drug addicts who are robbing citizens of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of goods and money annually to satisfy their craving for drugs.

There is not a single one of these problems which cannot be solved by intelligence and energy which are at the moment in very short supply, particularly at City Hall. Mayor Wagner, a great shaker of hands, giver of teas, attender of banquets, an utterer of platitudes, seems unaware of the scope of city problems or, it sometimes seems, that it has any. He has no solutions nor, it appears, has he looked for any.

There is no more rewarding or fulfilling civic duty I can think of than cleaning up and rebuilding our great cities, especially New York. The image of a nation is contained in the reflecting glass of its great cities. England is mirrored in London, France in Paris, Italy in Rome, Denmark in Copenhagen. As a nation we simply cannot afford the image New York is projecting to the rest of the world as typical of our society.

Vikings Get Four All-Star Grid Berths

Keyser Lands Three Places; Beall Wins Grid, Track Trophies

LaSalle High School was voted into the Potomac Valley Conference at the fall dinner meeting of that circuit last night at the Old Homestead Hotel, Burlington, W. Va.

LaSalle is the third Maryland School to join the P.V.C., in which 16 West Virginia high schools are represented.

Beall High and Southern High of Oakland are the other Maryland schools in the P.V.C. The West Virginia members are Bayard, Capon Bridge, Circleville, Elk Garden, Fort Ashby, Franklin, Keyser, Mathias, Moorefield, Paw Paw, Petersburg, Piedmont, Ridgeley, Romney, Wardensville and the West Virginia School for the Deaf.

The application for the berth was filed by Brother Thomas, athletic director, who was accompanied at last night's meeting by Brother Anthony.

Make Debut In Basketball

The Explorers will make their debut in the basketball loop during the 1960-61 season and will also play football in the conference in 1961. To qualify for the title a school must play a minimum of eight basketball games and four football games. LaSalle has seven games already lined up with the P.V.C. opponents for the coming season, having booked home-and-home games with Beall, Ridgeley and Paw Paw and a single contest with Fort Ashby.

During the current football season Keyser, Ridgeley, Moorefield, West Virginia School for the Deaf and Beall, all members of the P.V.C., appeared on LaSalle's schedule.

Keyser High School was declared the 1960 conference baseball champion and was voted an appropriate trophy.

Two Trophies To Beall

Beall High School was the winner of two trophies. The Mountaineers football team, coached by Gerard "Jerry" Calhoun won the football championship with a 4-0 record and also won the track and field title in the sixth annual meet held May 4 at Frostburg.

Beall High School's cross country team also won the first P.V.C. cross country meet held this year.

Petersburg High School, runner-up in football, also received a trophy.

At last night's meeting, the conference adopted cross country as an annual sport and a trophy will go to the winning team for the first time next year.

Paul Kalbaugh, principal and head coach at Elk Garden High School, urged more teams in the conference to enter the cross country event and Enordo "Moose" Arnone, Beall mentor, highly recommended the sport. Three schools, Beall, Elk Garden and Wardensville participated in the first meet held this year.

Vikings Get Four Places

Petersburg's Vikings, coached by Wayne Barr, landed four places on the 1960 All-Conference football team selected by the coaches at last night's session. Keyser was awarded three places, Beall, two, and Ridgeley and Franklin one each.

It was decided to continue the P.V.C. junior high school basketball tournaments under the direction of John R. Shelton at Keyser High School. Ten to 12 schools compete in this event annually.

Approximately 60 principals, coaches and assistant coaches attended the meeting.

Mad Scramble For Bowl Bids Nears Climax

Handful Of Teams Remain In Running

By The Associated Press

Washington, Arkansas, Missouri, Baylor and Syracuse are off the board as selection committees head into a wild weekend of bidding to fill berths for the post-season bowl games in college football.

One of the bowl games, too, may be out of the scramble, by default. The committee for the inaugural Gotham Bowl in New York looked ready to call it quits after Syracuse decided to pass up all bids.

With Baylor (7-2) accepting a Gator Bowl invitation Sunday, Syracuse saying "no thanks," and Washington, Missouri and Arkansas gobbled up last weekend, the ranks of the most wanted dwindled to a handful of teams. And those prime targets—Navy, Rice, Texas, Minnesota, Iowa, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Duke and Oregon — are the clubs the selectors will be zeroing in on this weekend.

There should be a convention of selectors at four big games — Navy-Army at Philadelphia, Rice-Baylor at Waco, Tex., and Alabama-Auburn at Birmingham on Saturday, plus the Texas-Texas Tech meeting Thanksgiving Day.

The Rose Bowl should have a natural if it can pair Washington (9-1) with Navy (8-1). Only the Middies beat the Huskies this season, by a slim, 15-14 count.

The Orange Bowl at Miami had planned to match Duke, the only club to beat Navy, against Missouri (9-1). But the choice now may be wide open after the Atlantic Coast Conference champions' 7-6 upset by North Carolina. An upset failed to scratch Missouri, however. The Tigers accepted the bid on the heels of a 23-7 surprise by Kansas.

Arkansas (8-2) won its third trip to the Cotton Bowl by clinching no worse than a tie for the Southwest Conference title.

A.L. To Adopt L.A. Franchise Despite Furore

Webb And O'Malley Confer On Expansion

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite the storm signals raised by Commissioner Ford Frick and the opposition of Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, the American League Monday planned to formally approve a franchise in Los Angeles at its meeting here Tuesday.

President Joe Cronin, who arrived in New York a day ahead of schedule, said his beleaguered American League intends going through with its plan to allocate 56 big league players — at $75,000 a man — to the new ninth and tenth clubs immediately after the owners of the Los Angeles club have been established.

A franchise for the new team in Washington, left vacant when the Senators moved to Minneapolis-St. Paul, was awarded a 10-man syndicate headed by Elwood Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency, last week.

Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, was dispatched to Los Angeles last Friday to contact O'Malley and negotiate a settlement for the $450,000 he reportedly spent in moving his club to the West Coast three years ago.

Before meeting with Webb, O'Malley made it plain that the least important of the conditions would be compensation to the Dodgers by the new American League entry.

O'Malley said he is not opposed to an American League club moving into his area, but feels there should be no move in 1961, the American League's target date.

"I am opposed to another club here in 1961 because I do not want sharing of the crowded schedule in the Coliseum," he said.

Major league law now states that one league cannot move into the other league's territory without unanimous consent by both leagues. The American League has proposed an amendment to change that ruling.

Commissioner Ford Frick has declared he will cast a tie-breaking vote in favor of the American League, in the event of a deadlock over an amendment, only if the Americans made a "fair and equitable" settlement with O'Malley.

DAV Independents Beat Lancaster, Pa. Eleven, 33 To 27

The Cumberland DAV independent football team scored its fourth straight victory Sunday with a thrilling 33-27 triumph over the Lancaster, Pa., Rams on the Pennsylvania gridiron before a crowd of 2,500 fans.

Jack Long took a 13-yard pass from Bob Schell to score the winning touchdown for the DAV with less than two minutes to play in the high-scoring battle. The six-pointer was the second for Long who scored earlier on a 49-yard punt return.

Other DAV touchdowns came on a nine-yard run by Donald Diggs, a seven-yard sprint by Fred Wartzack and a three-yard plunge by Schell. John Wilson kicked three points for the winners.

Lancaster scored when Matthews took a 17-yard pass from Hamilton, again on R. Snyder's eight-yard run, a three-yard plunge by Cecconi and an eight-yard run with a recovered fumble by Billmyer.

The DAV team will play at Allentown, Pa., Sunday at 2 p.m.

The scores:

Cumberland DAV	7	0	13	13	—33

Gifford May Miss Remaining Games For N.Y. Giants

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frank Gifford, the New York Giants' star halfback who suffered a severe concussion in Sunday's game against the Philadelphia Eagles, may not be able to play again this year, the club's physician said Monday.

Dr. Francis Sweeny said that in cases like Gifford's, a rest of three or four weeks usually is required before the player could risk a return to action.

The Giants, who also learned Monday that defensive end Jim Katcavage was lost for the year with a broken collarbone, have four games remaining on their regular - season schedule, which closes Dec. 18.

Lee Top Player

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Jackie Lee, who did a fine job of filling in for injured star quarterback George Blanda as the Houston Oilers beat the Denver Broncos Sunday, was named Monday as the American Football League's Player of the Week on offense.

LaSalle-Beall Grid Officials Are Announced

Hubert Feeney, secretary of the Potomac Valley Football Officials Association, last night named four officials who will handle the Thanksgiving Day football game between Beall and LaSalle at Frostburg.

John Shelton of Keyser will be the referee; Charles McCullough will be the umpire; John Fox will be field judge and Kenneth Cross will be the head linesman.

Terp Booters Edge Rutgers

Capture Sudden Death Win, 4-3

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—The University of Maryland struck for three goals in the final period and added one more in a sudden death overtime to nip Rutgers Monday, 4-3, and move within two games of the NCAA National Soccer championship.

Halfback Bob Cummings with an assist by Cliff Krug capped Maryland's eleventh-hour comeback by registering the winning goal three minutes into the overtime session.

Rutgers held a 3-0 bulge going into the final period.

The victory, in addition to handing Rutgers its first setback in 12 appearances this year, earned Maryland the right to meet the University of Connecticut in the NCAA's semifinal round Friday at Brooklyn College.

Center forward Juan Carlos Martin, a 1959 All-America, tallied twice in the hectic final period on assists from Krug and Cummings. Cummings scored the tying marker unassisted.

Oleh Dutkewych, Joe Letters, and Herb Schmidt contributed the Rutgers goals.

Maryland's record now stands at 8-1-1.

Rutgers	0	2	1	0	0—3

Auburn's Rice First Choice

Tackle Selected By AL's Buffalo Bills

DALLAS (AP) — Ken Rice, Auburn tackle, was the first draft choice of the American Football League Monday. Rice was drawn by Buffalo, which got the first choice due to its standing in the league race.

Tom Brown, Minnesota guard; Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback; Bob Gaiters, New Mexico State halfback; Joe Rutgens, Illinois tackle; E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Earl Faison, Indiana end, and Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end, were first choices of the other seven clubs in the league.

Brown was drawn by New York, Mason by Boston, Gaiters by Denver, Rutgens by Oakland, Holuo by Dallas, Faison by Los Angeles and Ditka by Houston.

The draft was conducted by telephone and only five rounds were completed.

Commissioner Joe Foss said none of the players drafted by the league could be signed to contracts until they had completed their college eligibility. This means, Foss said, that he will not approve any contracts signed by players before they have finished football, this includes the bowl games.

Oriole Shortstop Hansen Stunned At 'Rookie' Vote

FT. KNOX Ky. (AP)—Pvt. Ron Hansen tripped and almost fell on the parade ground Monday after learning he had been picked as the American League's rookie of the year for 1960.

"I can't believe it. . . unbelievable," said the 22-year-old shortstop for the Baltimore Orioles, dropping out of the close order drill formation.

Hansen, who bat the glove work helped catapult the Orioles from sixth place to second in one year, collected 22 of 24 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. The other two were split between his teammates, first baseman Jim Gentile and pitcher Chuck Estrada.

"I'm so surprised at this, there is nothing to say. This is something every ball player dreams of but never believes will happen."

100,000 Nimrods To Open West Va. Deer Season

Fewer Licenses Sold This Year

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Conservation Commission said Monday that some 90,000 to 100,000 nimrods are expected to invade the Mountain State's woodlands next Monday for the opening of deer season.

Game Chief C. O. Handley said the commission is expecting a kill about the same as last year, or some 19,500. However, he noted not as many people have bought licenses this year, so the kill may not be as large.

Handley said the foilage is fairly thin in most sections which will make for easier and safer hunting.

"We are hoping that we don't have any fatalities but we had five last year," Handley said. He warned hunters to wear either orange or red clothing and to "make sure they know what they are shooting at."

The game chief also warned against hunters, not accustomed to the climbing over hills and dales after deer, to take it easy.

"Hunters not used to it should take care not to overexert themselves," he said. "A heart attack can kill just as fast as a bullet."

Twenty-four counties and parts of two others will have four days of hunter's choice followed by two days of bucks only.

Bucks - only hunting will be permitted over a period of six days in seven counties and parts of six others; there will be a bucks - only season one day in three counties; hunters choice two days in two counties and part of another, and hunter's choice one day in three counties.

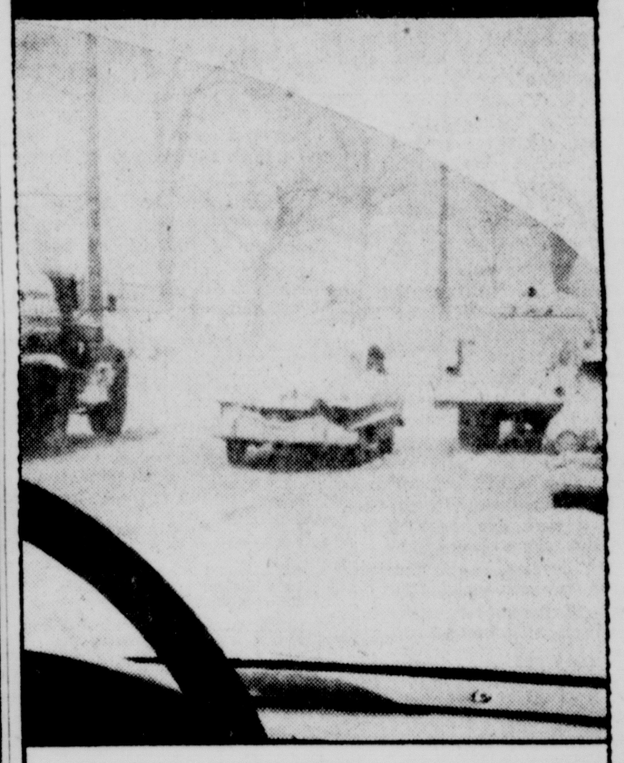

Closed for all deer hunting are McDowell, Mingo, Wayne, Cabell, Lincoln, Wyoming, Logan, Boone, Fayette, Mason, Putnam and Kanawha south of the Kanawha River, Raleigh north of W. Va. 3 and east of U. S. 21, and a small portion of Nicholas County.

The Giants, who also learned Monday that defensive end Jim Katcavage was lost for the year with a broken collarbone, have four games remaining on their regular - season schedule, which closes Dec. 18.

A.L. To Adopt L.A. Franchise Despite Furore

Webb And O'Malley Confer On Expansion

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite the storm signals raised by Commissioner Ford Frick and the opposition of Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, the American League Monday planned to formally approve a franchise in Los Angeles at its meeting here Tuesday.

President Joe Cronin, who arrived in New York a day ahead of schedule, said his beleaguered American League intends going through with its plan to allocate 56 big league players — at $75,000 a man — to the new ninth and tenth clubs immediately after the owners of the Los Angeles club have been established.

A franchise for the new team in Washington, left vacant when the Senators moved to Minneapolis-St. Paul, was awarded a 10-man syndicate headed by Elwood Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency, last week.

Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, was dispatched to Los Angeles last Friday to contact O'Malley and negotiate a settlement for the $450,000 he reportedly spent in moving his club to the West Coast three years ago.

Before meeting with Webb, O'Malley made it plain that the least important of the conditions would be compensation to the Dodgers by the new American League entry.

O'Malley said he is not opposed to an American League club moving into his area, but feels there should be no move in 1961, the American League's target date.

"I am opposed to another club here in 1961 because I do not want sharing of the crowded schedule in the Coliseum," he said.

Major league law now states that one league cannot move into the other league's territory without unanimous consent by both leagues. The American League has proposed an amendment to change that ruling.

Commissioner Ford Frick has declared he will cast a tie-breaking vote in favor of the American League, in the event of a deadlock over an amendment, only if the Americans made a "fair and equitable" settlement with O'Malley.

DAV Independents Beat Lancaster, Pa. Eleven, 33 To 27

The Cumberland DAV independent football team scored its fourth straight victory Sunday with a thrilling 33-27 triumph over the Lancaster, Pa., Rams on the Pennsylvania gridiron before a crowd of 2,500 fans.

Other DAV touchdowns came on a nine-yard run by Donald Diggs, a seven-yard sprint by Fred Wartzack and a three-yard plunge by Schell. John Wilson kicked three points for the winners.

Lancaster scored when Matthews took a 17-yard pass from Hamilton, again on R. Snyder's eight-yard run, a three-yard plunge by Cecconi and an eight-yard run with a recovered fumble by Billmyer.

Terp Booters Edge Rutgers

Capture Sudden Death Win, 4-3

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—The University of Maryland struck for three goals in the final period and added one more in a sudden death overtime to nip Rutgers Monday, 4-3, and move within two games of the NCAA National Soccer championship.

Halfback Bob Cummings with an assist by Cliff Krug capped Maryland's eleventh-hour comeback by registering the winning goal three minutes into the overtime session.

Rutgers held a 3-0 bulge going into the final period.

The victory, in addition to handing Rutgers its first setback in 12 appearances this year, earned Maryland the right to meet the University of Connecticut in the NCAA's semifinal round Friday at Brooklyn College.

Center forward Juan Carlos Martin, a 1959 All-America, tallied twice in the hectic final period on assists from Krug and Cummings. Cummings scored the tying marker unassisted.

Olch Dutkewych, Joe Letters, and Herb Schmidt contributed the Rutgers goals.

Maryland's record now stands at 8-1-1.

Rutgers	0	2	1	0	0—3

Auburn's Rice First Choice

Tackle Selected By AL's Buffalo Bills

DALLAS (AP) — Ken Rice, Auburn tackle, was the first draft choice of the American Football League Monday. Rice was drawn by Buffalo, which got the first choice due to its standing in the league race.

Tom Brown, Minnesota guard; Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback; Bob Gaiters, New Mexico State halfback; Joe Rutgens, Illinois tackle; E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Earl Faison, Indiana end, and Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end, were first choices of the other seven clubs in the league.

Brown was drawn by New York, Mason by Boston, Gaiters by Denver, Rutgens by Oakland, Holuo by Dallas, Faison by Los Angeles and Ditka by Houston.

The draft was conducted by telephone and only five rounds were completed.

Commissioner Joe Foss said none of the players drafted by the league could be signed to contracts until they had completed their college eligibility. This means, Foss said, that he will not approve any contracts signed by players before they have finished football, this includes the bowl games.

Oriole Shortstop Hansen Stunned At 'Rookie' Vote

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Pvt. Ron Hansen tripped and almost fell on the parade ground Monday after learning he had been picked as the American League's rookie of the year for 1960.

"I can't believe it. . . unbelievable," said the 22-year-old shortstop for the Baltimore Orioles, dropping out of the close order drill formation.

Hansen, who bat the glove work helped catapult the Orioles from sixth place to second in one year, collected 22 of 24 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. The other two were split between his teammates, first baseman Jim Gentile and pitcher Chuck Estrada.

"I'm so surprised at this, there is nothing to say. This is something every ball player dreams of but never believes will happen."

Fewer Licenses Sold This Year

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Conservation Commission said Monday that some 90,000 to 100,000 nimrods are expected to invade the Mountain State's woodlands next Monday for the opening of deer season.

Game Chief C. O. Handley said the commission is expecting a kill about the same as last year, or some 19,500. However, he noted not as many people have bought licenses this year, so the kill may not be as large.

Handley said the foliage is fairly thin in most sections which will make for easier and safer hunting.

"We are hoping that we don't have any fatalities but we had five last year," Handley said. He warned hunters to wear either orange or red clothing and to "make sure they know what they are shooting at."

The game chief also warned against hunters, not accustomed to the climbing over hills and dales after deer, to take it easy.

"Hunters not used to it should take care not to overexert themselves," he said. "A heart attack can kill just as fast as a bullet."

Twenty-four counties and parts of two others will have four days of hunter's choice followed by two days of bucks only.

Bucks - only hunting will be permitted over a period of six days in seven counties and parts of six others; there will be a bucks - only season one day in three counties; hunters choice two days in two counties and part of another, and hunter's choice one day in three counties.

Closed for all deer hunting are McDowell, Mingo, Wayne, Cabell, Lincoln, Wyoming, Logan, Boone, Fayette, Mason, Putnam and Kanawha south of the Kanawha River, Raleigh north of W. Va. 3 and east of U. S. 21, and a small portion of Nicholas County.

Minnesota Regains First Place In AP Football Poll

Gophers Edge By Iowa And Mississippi

Missouri Falls To 5th Place; National Title Is In Doubt

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota's once-beaten Gophers regained first place Monday in the Associated Press' weekly football poll in a close battle with Iowa and Mississippi.

Missouri, which had taken over the No. 1 spot a week ago after Minnesota was upset by Purdue, fell all the way to fifth place following its first loss, to Kansas.

The balloting was so close that the national championship which will be based on next week' finals vote remained in doubt.

Minnesota received 424½ points, Iowa 417½, and Mississippi 398.

While Minnesota and Iowa have finished their regular season as co-champs of the Big Ten, Mississippi has a final game with Mississippi State Saturday after an open date last week.

Most First Votes

Iowa received the most first place votes, 17½, with Minnesota getting 13½. One of the 48 selectors couldn't pick between the two, giving each half a first place vote. Mississippi accounted for 13 first place ballots.

The difference was in second and third place votes, where Minnesota held a slight edge over Iowa.

During the regular season, Iowa lost only to Minnesota, 27-10. Minnesota was beaten only by Purdue, 23-14. Iowa was No. 2 and Minnesota No. 4 last week. Then Minnesota ended its season by beating Wisconsin 27-7, and Iowa blanked Notre Dame 28-0.

The University of Washington, the Big Five Conference champion and host team in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2, moved up from fifth to fourth place. Washington had a scare Saturday before edging Washington State 8-7.

Missouri's skid followed its 23-7 defeat by Kansas Saturday. The Kansas victory moved the Jayhawks into the No. 10 spot. Duke, No. 6 a week ago, dropped out of the top 10 after dropping a 7-6 decision to North Carolina. The Blue Devils meet UCLA Dec. 3.

Navy Jumps Notch

Arkansas, which ended its regular season by trimming Texas Tech 34-6, advanced from No. 7 to sixth place. Navy, idle and awaiting its big service clash Saturday with Army, jumped a notch from eighth to seventh.

Auburn, ninth a week ago, whipped Florida State 57-21, and took over eighth. Auburn meets Alabama Saturday. Ohio State, 10th a week ago, beat Michigan 7-0 and took over ninth.

The leaders, with first place votes, season won-lost-tied records in parentheses (points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	Minnesota (13½) (8-1)	424½
2.	Iowa (17½) (8-1)	417½
3.	Mississippi (13) (8-0-1)	398
4.	Washington (2) (9-1)	249
5.	Missouri (9-1)	241
6.	Arkansas (8-2)	228
7.	Navy (8-1)	188
8.	Auburn (1) (8-1)	149½
9.	Ohio State (7-2)	117
10.	Kansas (7-2-1)	48

Bob Scheffing Gets 2-Year Contract As Detroit Pilot

New Manager Said Talent Developer

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Scheffing, an ex-catcher with a reputation for handling young players, Monday was hired to manage the Detroit Tigers and restore vigor to the ailing club.

The 45-year-old former pilot of the Chicago Cubs got a two-year contract at an estimated yearly salary of $35,000.

The veteran National Leaguer received the job after a seven-week search by the Tigers for a successor to Joe Gordon, who quit Oct. 3, one day after the end of the 1960 season.

"We hired Bob for two reasons," said John Fetzer, Tiger president. "He came about as highly recommended as any manager could be. Everyone we spoke to has a high regard for him.

"And he's considered a fine developer of young talent. I'm sure he's the man who can get the job done for us."

Scheffing, the Tigers' choice after Casey Stengel turned down the job, commented cautiously: "I don't feel I'm qualified to talk about the Tigers' problems right now," he said. "All I know is that they have them.

The new manager faces an uphill chore in returning the Tigers to prominence in the American League. The club hasn't had a contender since 1950 and has finished as high as fourth only twice in the last 10 seasons. Detroit hasn't won a pennant since 1945.

It costs more than $350 thousand to build the average supermarket and in some areas may run as high as one million dollars.

Minnesota Regains First Place In AP Football Poll

Gophers Edge By Iowa And Mississippi

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota's once-beaten Gophers regained first place Monday in the Associated Press' weekly football poll in a close battle with Iowa and Mississippi.

Missouri, which had taken over the No. 1 spot a week ago after Minnesota was upset by Purdue, fell all the way to fifth place following its first loss, to Kansas.

The balloting was so close that the national championship which will be based on next week' finals vote remained in doubt.

While Minnesota and Iowa have finished their regular season as co-champs of the Big Ten, Mississippi has a final game with Mississippi State Saturday after an open date last week.

Most First Votes

Iowa received the most first place votes, 17½, with Minnesota getting 13½. One of the 48 selectors couldn't pick between the two, giving each half a first place vote. Mississippi accounted for 13 first place ballots.

The difference was in second and third place votes, where Minnesota held a slight edge over Iowa.

During the regular season, Iowa lost only to Minnesota, 27-10. Minnesota was beaten only by Purdue, 23-14. Iowa was No. 2 and Minnesota No. 4 last week. Then Minnesota ended its season by beating Wisconsin 27-7, and Iowa blanked Notre Dame 28-0.

The University of Washington, the Big Five Conference champion and host team in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2, moved up from fifth to fourth place. Washington had a scare Saturday before edging Washington State 8-7.

Missouri's skid followed its 23-7 defeat by Kansas Saturday. The Kansas victory moved the Jayhawks into the No. 10 spot. Duke, No. 6 a week ago, dropped out of the top 10 after dropping a 7-6 decision to North Carolina. The Blue Devils meet UCLA Dec. 3.

Navy Jumps Notch

Arkansas, which ended its regular season by trimming Texas Tech 34-6, advanced from No. 7 to sixth place. Navy, idle and awaiting its big service clash Saturday with Army, jumped a notch from eighth to seventh.

Auburn, ninth a week ago, whipped Florida State 57-21, and took over eighth. Auburn meets Alabama Saturday. Ohio State, 10th a week ago, beat Michigan 7-0 and took over ninth.

The leaders, with first place votes, season won-lost-tied records in parentheses (points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

1.	Minnesota (13½) (8-1)	424½
2.	Iowa (17½) (8-1)	417½
3.	Mississippi (13) (8-0-1)	398
4.	Washington (2) (9-1)	249
5.	Missouri (9-1)	241
6.	Arkansas (8-2)	228
7.	Navy (8-1)	188
8.	Auburn (1) (8-1)	149½
9.	Ohio State (7-2)	117
10.	Kansas (7-2-1)	48

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Hungarian freedom fighter Kornel Feher has been named captain of the West Virginia University swimming team, it was announced Monday.

Bob Scheffing Gets 2-Year Contract As Detroit Pilot

New Manager Said Talent Developer

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Scheffing, an ex-catcher with a reputation for handling young players, Monday was hired to manage the Detroit Tigers and restore vigor to the ailing club.

The veteran National Leaguer received the job after a seven-week search by the Tigers for a successor to Joe Gordon, who quit Oct. 3, one day after the end of the 1960 season.

"We hired Bob for two reasons," said John Fetzer, Tiger president. "He came about as highly recommended as any manager could be. Everyone we spoke to has a high regard for him.

"And he's considered a fine developer of young talent. I'm sure he's the man who can get the job done for us."

Scheffing, the Tigers' choice after Casey Stengel turned down the job, commented cautiously: "I don't feel I'm qualified to talk about the Tigers' problems right now," he said. "All I know is that they have them.

The new manager faces an uphill chore in returning the Tigers to prominence in the American League. The club hasn't had a contender since 1950 and has finished as high as fourth only twice in the last 10 seasons. Detroit hasn't won a pennant since 1945.

It costs more than $350 thousand to build the average supermarket and in some areas may run as high as one million dollars.

Market Manages Small Gain On Rising Volume

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks rang up a small gain Monday as speculative and "recession-proof" issues combined to outperform a lethargic blue chip group.

Thanks largely to a 2½ point gain in Eastman Kodak, the Dow-Jones industrial average ended up 0.92 to 604.54 while rail stocks added 0.36 to 129.34 and utilities climbed 0.68 to 94.81. Volume rose to 3,090,000 shares from 2,760,000 on Friday.

Vending stocks, bowling, electronics, motion pictures and some foods all got the big play as most of the gainers here ran to over 2 points.

Steels were down as much as a point in Lukens on news of the lowest operating rate this week since July 4 as a result of the oncoming holiday season. Youngstown resisted with a ¼-point rise.

Ford, up ½, was the only good one among the motors as Britain consented to its $363 bid to buy out minority stockholders of the British subsidiary. International Harvester, which announced its entry into the compact car market with a new all-purpose vehicle, indicated little response by adding ⅛.

Dupont declared a yearend dividend of $2.25 compared with $2.50 last year and dropped a point. Sears, Roebuck paid out a 20-cent extra but did not change. Detroit Edison gained a point by boosting the quarterly rate a nickel. Martin, which announced after the close a 2-for-1 split and dividend boost, rose ⅞.

Market Manages Small Gain On Rising Volume

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks rang up a small gain Monday as speculative and "recession-proof" issues combined to outperform a lethargic blue chip group.

Thanks largely to a 2½ point gain in Eastman Kodak, the Dow-Jones industrial average ended up 0.92 to 604.54 while rail stocks added 0.36 to 129.34 and utilities climbed 0.68 to 94.81. Volume rose to 3,090,000 shares from 2,760,000 on Friday.

Vending stocks, bowling, electronics, motion pictures and some foods all got the big play as most of the gainers here ran to over 2 points.

Steels were down as much as a point in Lukens on news of the lowest operating rate this week since July 4 as a result of the oncoming holiday season. Youngstown resisted with a ¼-point rise.

Ford, up ½, was the only good one among the motors as Britain consented to its $363 bid to buy out minority stockholders of the British subsidiary. International Harvester, which announced its entry into the compact car market with a new all-purpose vehicle, indicated little response by adding ⅛.

Dupont declared a yearend dividend of $2.25 compared with $2.50 last year and dropped a point. Sears, Roebuck paid out a 20-cent extra but did not change. Detroit Edison gained a point by boosting the quarterly rate a nickel. Martin, which announced after the close a 2-for-1 split and dividend boost, rose ⅞.

Card Of Thanks

THE FAMILY of the late Joyce Anne Bridges, wishes to thank their many friends and neighbors who were so kind to them during their recent sad bereavement. They especially wish to thank the people of Mt. Savage and Slabtown for their exceptional kindness. They wish to thank those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.
THE BRIDGES FAMILY

WE WISH to take this means of thanking friends, relatives and neighbors who were so kind and thoughtful during the death of Harry L. Rotruck; also the Rev. C. H. Cameron and Rev. Millard R. Floyd, the pallbearers, those who furnished cars, sent cards and flowers or contributed in any way.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I went together for a year and then we became engaged. The engagement lasted six months. I'm ashamed to tell you that during the engagement the pressure of his pleading was too much for me, and I gave in to him.

We have been married four months and are happy, except for one thing. Whenever we are among friends he gets on the subject of virgin-brides. When he insists, vehemently, that there isn't a girl in the whole world who waits till marriage, I want to crawl into a hole and die. I've tried to explain to him that when he talks like this he advertises the fact that he didn't get one. He says I'm wrong and that people always assume "present company is excluded." How about this? — RED IN THE FACE

DEAR RED: Your husband should stay off the subject and keep his big trap shut. Of course he places you in a terrible position when he makes these ugly comments.

I hope all you single girls are listening. This is another strong argument in favor of holding the fort. Many a guy who puts on a big pitch is disappointed when he wins The Great Debate. He becomes disillusioned about womanhood in general, and his own girl in particular. He may tell you it will never make a difference but too often when the great love begins to tarnish a little, the past is used as a club to beat you over the head.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You would be doing a lot of working people a favor if you'd publish this. Many college boys need to see it in print before they'll give it a thought.

I'm a night club waiter in a city where there are many college students. I know many of these kids aren't rich — in fact some struggle to get by. But, it seems unfair to take a date to a club and sit there a whole evening, getting service, and then leave nothing for the waiter but a mess to clean up.

Most of these kids come in four and six together. You'd think they could order one drink less, and scrape together a dollar to give to a waiter or a waitress who serves them for three hours. They seem to think they are excused from tipping just because they're in school.

A waiter can handle just so many tables. In our club when one waiter gets four or five tables of college kids he knows he's going home with empty pockets. Is this fair? — D. D. W.

DEAR D.D.W.: No it isn't fair and I agree that college kids who can scare up the loot for a night out would do well to order one drink less and leave a waiter something. In fact, they could order several drinks less and do THEMSELVES a favor.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are having a misunderstanding concerning a relative. Please settle it. My sister's husband brags a lot and gets on my husband's nerves. I say the guy is a brother-in-law to my husband. My husband says he is nothing. Who is right? — SWORD'S POINT

DEAR POINT: You both could be right. The guy may be nothing — (real nothing, that is) but men are brothers-in-law when they marry sisters.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Talk about a switch! Kirk Douglas, who made "Spartacus", one of the biggest pictures since "Ben-Hur", will now make the smallest picture in Hollywood history. Kirk, who is in Europe, sends word that he's just purchased Edward Abbey's contemporary novel, "The Brave Cowboy" to make next year, — in black and white, for small screens, with limited budget, limited cast, and a very brief shooting schedule.

Kirk will retitle his story "The Last Hero", and instead of blood, thunder and what have you, his pocket-size project is a complete change of pace, with a love story and an exciting chase.

This could very well be a sleeper and out-Spartacus "Spartacus." I hear, however, that since Kirk cut out some of the bloodiest scenes, plus some other footage, the picture has a much better chance.

The Cuban headquarters of Castro's group were closed shortly before we arrived in Miami Beach to attend the American Legion convention. I drove through that part of town and saw the Cuban restaurant where Castro's crowd congregated.

There were huge posters of a Cuban entertainer. This was close to the barber shop that was bombed while we were there by some of Castro's allies. I asked a Miami Beach resident if she wasn't afraid to be so close to Havana. She said no, she wasn't but that the people in Florida were sorry that Castro made so much trouble because Havana had been such a pleasant place to visit.

It was sort of living on a tinder box to be so close, and in the opinion of many of the Florida people with whom I talked, Russia hasn't been idle. Ammunition has been supplied to the bearded menace.

That jack of a couple of trades, Carl Reiner—he's as talented a writer as he is an actor is parking his typewriter for at least four weeks to play Gidget's father in "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" for Columbia. Producer Jerry Bresler must have done a fast job of talking because Carl was right in the middle of writing "Thrill Girl" for Ross Hunter when Bresler sold him on "Gidget". An added inducement is that there's a free trip to Honolulu on location that goes along with Carl's job.

I have been wondering if "Wagon Train" will ever be the same without Ward Bond. I liked him so much both as an actor and as a man. One of his best of the series was in two parts and the fans kept writing in for a repeat. So in September, Ward with Virginia Grey did another "Wagon Train" story, using flashbacks of the popular first one the fans liked so much. It will be shown Christmas week.

I didn't know that Ward had been in a hospital a few months ago and that he had been feeding so poorly. His death and the death of dear Mack Sennet, Walter Catlett, and of course, Clark Gable leaves a hole in the heart of Hollywood.

That daring young man on the flying trapeze, David Nelson (who with his brother Ricky does a really "pro" circus act for a hobby) left Saturday for Munich to play in "The Big Show." However, producer Robert Lippert did not sign David primarily for his trapeze prowess. The popular Nelson lad plays a young G.I. stationed in Germany and it's a good acting part.

The only romantic bald-headed lover on the screen, Yul is wanted for "Terabulba," a movie Harold Hecht has on the fire, and there's "Peter and Catherine," the Universal-International historical spectacular. Yul will be here a week, so in that time, he will probably make up his mind what he's going to do.

How expression mirrors your frame of mind!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Thoughts Does Your Face Betray?

One of the most outstanding qualities of charm is kindness. Kindess occurs in conservation as well as deed. Charm cannot exist where gossip flourishes. Gossip is belittling and hardening.

Critical people who tear others apart have not only distorted views, but distorted faces. If you're happy, you look happy. If you have mean, vindicitive thoughts, your face betrays it. Continue these unpleasant grimaces, and wrinkles and lines will be etched in your face permanently.

Remember, men will choose the face with a smile over one that takes on unpleasant expressions — however enchanting the features. Your voice must "smile," too ("Your Most Attractive Voice," 10c coin, and self-addressed, stamped envelope).

If you criticize, you are instantly open to criticism. If you gossip, you are invariably subject to gossip. But, if you are above it all, you can't be involved. And, being above these things is an outstanding ingredient of real charm.

Underground Gas Storage Field Is In Operation

About 10,000 acres of sandstone more than a mile under neat farms and pastures at Terra Alta will serve as a "bank" for gas destined for winter delivery to Washington, Baltimore and other eastern cities.

The unveiling was a press tour on Friday, and an open house on Saturday for the public. For the latter group it was the satisfaction of curiosity which has existed ever since the buildings, pipes, tanks and towers began to blossom on a site two miles south of Terra Alta.

So it was to the compressor station that these groups came last week, getting first-hand looks at what Atlantic Seaboard has done in this corner of West Virginia.

Atlantic put the station into operation on August 18 at 11 p. m. As of last Monday, 6.8 billion cubic feet of gas had been stored. Capacity will be about 33 billion cubic feet, expected to be reached by November 1, 1962.

Atlantic is a gas pipeline company with main headquarters in Charleston. It is part of Columbia Gas System and delivers gas from Kentucky and West Virginia to eastern markets.

"Terra Alta represents an ultimate investment of $25,000,000. Our studies showed that by putting the storage field into operation we could serve our customers more efficiently and more economically," a spokesman said.

Gas being injected in the new storage field is being delivered through a newly completed 20-inch pipeline that connects the Preston county operation with Atlantic's pipeline at Mouth of Seneca, W. Va. When fully activated, Terra Alta will be able to deliver up to 255 million cubic feet of gas a day into Atlantic's transmission system.

Atlantic's main supply of gas comes from United Fuel Gas Company at delivery points near Clendenin, W. Va., in Kanawha County. This gas starts through generally parallel 26-inch pipelines, headed for the Washington-Baltimore area. In winter months the lines have operated at practically full capacity to supply these and other cities. But when demand fell off in summer months, the lines operated at much less than capacity.

By putting Terra Alta into operation, Atlantic is able to keep its big 26-inch lines busy through the summer, delivering gas all the way to Seneca and then through the 20-inch lateral line into underground storage.

This puts a supply of gas much closer to the markets ready for delivery when demand hits its peaks in winter.

Investment is already about $19 million, including the cost of acquiring Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company and Hope Natural Gas Company property, and is expected to reach $25 million by 1963. Some of this goes for goods and services obtained locally.

Eleven full-time employes and their families will join the community. An annual payroll upward of $50,000 will stimulate local trade.

Annual rentals will be paid to property owners in the amount of about $48,700.

Opening lead: Ten of ♣

North opened with one spade and South responded with two hearts. North rebid his spades, and South showed his second suit. North, altho he held supporting cards in diamonds declined to raise but instead chose to bid three no trump. Since his hand was such a bare minimum he did not want to go beyond the nine trick level on his own authority. South's rebid of four diamonds was intended to show two five-card suits and to serve as a warning that he did not like no trump, so North obligingly contracted for game in diamonds.

West opened the ten of clubs which was taken in dummy with the ace. From this point on, declarers gave this hand a variety of treatment. Some drew all the adverse trumps, which required three rounds, and then attempted to set up the heart suit by ruffing once in dummy. When the suit broke 4-2, declarer was compelled to lose a heart to West and the contract was defeated a trick.

One declarer drew only two trumps and then ruffed the third round of hearts with the nine of diamonds. But this was overruffed by East and the contract was defeated.

One declarer found the winning play despite the bad break in both red suits. He planned to ruff only one heart in dummy. After winning the opening lead he drew only one round of trumps. Then followed the king, ace and another heart, but declarer made no attempt to ruff this trick. Instead, he discarded dummy's losing club. This permitted him subsequently to ruff a club with one of dummy's low trumps. He was then in position to ruff the fourth round of hearts with the ace of diamonds, establishing the suit.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I went together for a year and then we became engaged. The engagement lasted six months. I'm ashamed to tell you that during the engagement the pressure of his pleading was too much for me, and I gave in to him.

We have been married four months and are happy, except for one thing. Whenever we are among friends he gets on the subject of virgin-brides. When he insists, vehemently, that there isn't a girl in the whole world who waits till marriage, I want to crawl into a hole and die. I've tried to explain to him that when he talks like this he advertises the fact that he didn't get one. He says I'm wrong and that people always assume "present company is excluded." How about this? — RED IN THE FACE

DEAR RED: Your husband should stay off the subject and keep his big trap shut. Of course he places you in a terrible position when he makes these ugly comments.

I hope all you single girls are listening. This is another strong argument in favor of holding the fort. Many a guy who puts on a big pitch is disappointed when he wins The Great Debate. He becomes disillusioned about womanhood in general, and his own girl in particular. He may tell you it will never make a difference but too often when the great love begins to tarnish a little, the past is used as a club to beat you over the head.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You would be doing a lot of working people a favor if you'd publish this. Many college boys need to see it in print before they'll give it a thought.

I'm a night club waiter in a city where there are many college students. I know many of these kids aren't rich — in fact some struggle to get by. But, it seems unfair to take a date to a club and sit there a whole evening, getting service, and then leave nothing for the waiter but a mess to clean up.

Most of these kids come in four and six together. You'd think they could order one drink less, and scrape together a dollar to give to a waiter or a waitress who serves them for three hours. They seem to think they are excused from tipping just because they're in school.

A waiter can handle just so many tables. In our club when one waiter gets four or five tables of college kids he knows he's going home with empty pockets. Is this fair? — D. D. W.

DEAR D.D.W.: No it isn't fair and I agree that college kids who can scare up the loot for a night out would do well to order one drink less and leave a waiter something. In fact, they could order several drinks less and do THEMSELVES a favor.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are having a misunderstanding concerning a relative. Please settle it. My sister's husband brags a lot and gets on my husband's nerves. I say the guy is a brother-in-law to my husband. My husband says he is nothing. Who is right? — SWORD'S POINT

DEAR POINT: You both could be right. The guy may be nothing — (real nothing, that is) but men are brothers-in-law when they marry sisters.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Talk about a switch! Kirk Douglas, who made "Spartacus", one of the biggest pictures since "Ben-Hur", will now make the smallest picture in Hollywood history. Kirk, who is in Europe, sends word that he's just purchased Edward Abbey's contemporary novel, "The Brave Cowboy" to make next year, — in black and white, for small screens, with limited budget, limited cast, and a very brief shooting schedule.

Kirk will retitle his story "The Last Hero", and instead of blood, thunder and what have you, his pocket-size project is a complete change of pace, with a love story and an exciting chase.

This could very well be a sleeper and out-Spartacus "Spartacus." I hear, however, that since Kirk cut out some of the bloodiest scenes, plus some other footage, the picture has a much better chance.

The Cuban headquarters of Castro's group were closed shortly before we arrived in Miami Beach to attend the American Legion convention. I drove through that part of town and saw the Cuban restaurant where Castro's crowd congregated.

There were huge posters of a Cuban entertainer. This was close to the barber shop that was bombed while we were there by some of Castro's allies. I asked a Miami Beach resident if she wasn't afraid to be so close to Havana. She said no, she wasn't but that the people in Florida were sorry that Castro made so much trouble because Havana had been such a pleasant place to visit.

It was sort of living on a tinder box to be so close, and in the opinion of many of the Florida people with whom I talked, Russia hasn't been idle. Ammunition has been supplied to the bearded menace.

That jack of a couple of trades, Carl Reiner—he's as talented a writer as he is an actor is parking his typewriter for at least four weeks to play Gidget's father in "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" for Columbia. Producer Jerry Bresler must have done a fast job of talking because Carl was right in the middle of writing "Thrill Girl" for Ross Hunter when Bresler sold him on "Gidget". An added inducement is that there's a free trip to Honolulu on location that goes along with Carl's job.

I have been wondering if "Wagon Train" will ever be the same without Ward Bond. I liked him so much both as an actor and as a man. One of his best of the series was in two parts and the fans kept writing in for a repeat. So in September, Ward with Virginia Grey did another "Wagon Train" story, using flashbacks of the popular first one the fans liked so much. It will be shown Christmas week.

I didn't know that Ward had been in a hospital a few months ago and that he had been feeding so poorly. His death and the death of dear Mack Sennet, Walter Catlett, and of course, Clark Gable leaves a hole in the heart of Hollywood.

That daring young man on the flying trapeze, David Nelson (who with his brother Ricky does a really "pro" circus act for a hobby) left Saturday for Munich to play in "The Big Show." However, producer Robert Lippert did not sign David primarily for his trapeze prowess. The popular Nelson lad plays a young G.I. stationed in Germany and it's a good acting part.

The only romantic bald-headed lover on the screen, Yul is wanted for "Terabulba," a movie Harold Hecht has on the fire, and there's "Peter and Catherine," the Universal-International historical spectacular. Yul will be here a week, so in that time, he will probably make up his mind what he's going to do.

How expression mirrors your frame of mind!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Thoughts Does Your Face Betray?

One of the most outstanding qualities of charm is kindness. Kindess occurs in conservation as well as deed. Charm cannot exist where gossip flourishes. Gossip is belittling and hardening.

Critical people who tear others apart have not only distorted views, but distorted faces. If you're happy, you look happy. If you have mean, vindicitive thoughts, your face betrays it. Continue these unpleasant grimaces, and wrinkles and lines will be etched in your face permanently.

Remember, men will choose the face with a smile over one that takes on unpleasant expressions — however enchanting the features. Your voice must "smile," too ("Your Most Attractive Voice," 10c coin, and self-addressed, stamped envelope).

If you criticize, you are instantly open to criticism. If you gossip, you are invariably subject to gossip. But, if you are above it all, you can't be involved. And, being above these things is an outstanding ingredient of real charm.

Underground Gas Storage Field Is In Operation

A former natural gas production field near here was unveiled in its new role for the future—an underground storage pool of Atlantic Seaboard Corporation.

About 10,000 acres of sandstone more than a mile under neat farms and pastures at Terra Alta will serve as a "bank" for gas destined for winter delivery to Washington, Baltimore and other eastern cities.

The unveiling was a press tour on Friday, and an open house on Saturday for the public. For the latter group it was the satisfaction of curiosity which has existed ever since the buildings, pipes, tanks and towers began to blossom on a site two miles south of Terra Alta.

So it was to the compressor station that these groups came last week, getting first-hand looks at what Atlantic Seaboard has done in this corner of West Virginia.

Atlantic put the station into operation on August 18 at 11 p. m. As of last Monday, 6.8 billion cubic feet of gas had been stored. Capacity will be about 33 billion cubic feet, expected to be reached by November 1, 1962.

Atlantic is a gas pipeline company with main headquarters in Charleston. It is part of Columbia Gas System and delivers gas from Kentucky and West Virginia to eastern markets.

"Terra Alta represents an ultimate investment of $25,000,000. Our studies showed that by putting the storage field into operation we could serve our customers more efficiently and more economically," a spokesman said.

Gas being injected in the new storage field is being delivered through a newly completed 20-inch pipeline that connects the Preston county operation with Atlantic's pipeline at Mouth of Seneca, W. Va. When fully activated, Terra Alta will be able to deliver up to 255 million cubic feet of gas a day into Atlantic's transmission system.

Atlantic's main supply of gas comes from United Fuel Gas Company at delivery points near Clendenin, W. Va., in Kanawha County. This gas starts through generally parallel 26-inch pipelines, headed for the Washington-Baltimore area. In winter months the lines have operated at practically full capacity to supply these and other cities. But when demand fell off in summer months, the lines operated at much less than capacity.

By putting Terra Alta into operation, Atlantic is able to keep its big 26-inch lines busy through the summer, delivering gas all the way to Seneca and then through the 20-inch lateral line into underground storage.

This puts a supply of gas much closer to the markets ready for delivery when demand hits its peaks in winter.

Economically, the Terra Alta storage project will help Preston county and adjoining areas.

Investment is already about $19 million, including the cost of acquiring Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company and Hope Natural Gas Company property, and is expected to reach $25 million by 1963. Some of this goes for goods and services obtained locally.

Eleven full-time employes and their families will join the community. An annual payroll upward of $50,000 will stimulate local trade.

Annual rentals will be paid to property owners in the amount of about $48,700.

Preston County should get a greater share of utility taxes levied by the State Board of Public Works because of the added investment that Terra Alta represents.

Opening lead: Ten of ♣

North opened with one spade and South responded with two hearts. North rebid his spades, and South showed his second suit. North, altho he held supporting cards in diamonds declined to raise but instead chose to bid three no trump. Since his hand was such a bare minimum he did not want to go beyond the nine trick level on his own authority. South's rebid of four diamonds was intended to show two five-card suits and to serve as a warning that he did not like no trump, so North obligingly contracted for game in diamonds.

West opened the ten of clubs which was taken in dummy with the ace. From this point on, declarers gave this hand a variety of treatment. Some drew all the adverse trumps, which required three rounds, and then attempted to set up the heart suit by ruffing once in dummy. When the suit broke 4-2, declarer was compelled to lose a heart to West and the contract was defeated a trick.

One declarer drew only two trumps and then ruffed the third round of hearts with the nine of diamonds. But this was overruffed by East and the contract was defeated.

One declarer found the winning play despite the bad break in both red suits. He planned to ruff only one heart in dummy. After winning the opening lead he drew only one round of trumps. Then followed the king, ace and another heart, but declarer made no attempt to ruff this trick. Instead, he discarded dummy's losing club. This permitted him subsequently to ruff a club with one of dummy's low trumps. He was then in position to ruff the fourth round of hearts with the ace of diamonds, establishing the suit.

Liquor Law Enforcement Under Attack

Sunday Sales, Minors, Problem

Enforcement of the county liquor laws came under severe attack last night at a hearing before the Allegany County Delegation and Senator Charles M. See, meeting in the county Court House.

Because of threats of bodily harm already received, it was agreed by all present that the names of the spokesmen and delegation which apeared from the Georges Creek area would not be publicized.

Stronger Laws

However, in their charge that the law is being violated and there is no enforcement, the citizen delegation asked legislators to strengthen the county liquor laws, put some teeth in enforcement provisions and add a clause providing that no license for beer, wine, or liquor, or any combination of these, be issued in an area where there are fewer than 500 people within a one-mile radius.

In the area where the complaints were directed, it was claimed there are three establishments holding beer licenses, and there are fewer than 400 people within a mile radius.

Spokesman for the group told the delegation that efforts to have the sheriff, liquor inspectors or State Police investigate and make arrests have failed completely.

It was stated before the delegation that on Sunday, these places are "beehives of activity, and a majority of the customers are young people, particularly teenagers."

The area was described as that around National, Klondyke, Woodland and vicinity.

Cock Fights Cited

The citizens group also said there had been illegal cock-fights held in the section on occasions, but the violation of the county liquor law, such as sales on Sunday, sales to minors, and permitting minors to loiter around these places is a continuing problem.

One spokesman said that he had personally called the sheriff's office and filed a complaint on one Sunday. He then drove down to the places in operation, arriving within the next 15 minutes. He said there were some 30 cars parked in the area. Several score of people, including many young people began leaving the place and he was informed by some of them the "place was about to be raided."

He said that in a later conversation with the sheriff he was informed by the sheriff, "the liquor law is not in my jurisdiction and the liquor inspectors should be notified."

He said on another occasion, a state trooper had pulled his car into the area, turned around and drove away without making an investigation.

Senator See and members of the delegation present suggested that the complaints of violations should go to the grand jury or the state's attorney, and that the liquor board should also be notified.

The lawmakers expressed the view that there are sufficient laws

$37,500 Award Handed Down In Accident

Suits Involved Dual Fatality

Verdicts totaling $37,500 were handed down in Washington County Circuit Court yesterday in suits involving a two-car accident last year on Route 40 near Hancock.

The virdicts were rendered in Hagerstown by Associate Judge P. Kenneth McLaughlin in suits filed by William S. Spates Sr., Frostburg, and Ruth E. Spates, his wife, for injuries sustained by them and their children, William F. Jr., and Patricia Ann, and in connection with the death of their son, Edward.

The suit was brought against Carmella R. Dukeman, administratrix for Gilbert A. Dukeman, driver of the other car, who was fatally injured in the crash.

Noel Speir Cook, Frostburg attorney, and Charles F. Wagaman, Hagerstown, represented the Spates'.

One Escapee Reported Seen

One of the three escapees from the State Correctional Institution at Huntingdon, Pa. still at large was reported seen yesterday in the Defiance area about 18 miles north of Bedford.

State Police immediately set up roadblocks but later in the day gave up the search in the immediate area and are on the lookout in the rest of Pennsylvania.

Scotty Robinette, 32, of RD 2, Everett, is reported traveling in a four-door 1961 Plymouth sedan with a white top and red bottom. It has Pennsylvania tags. Police said the car has not been reported stolen.

The escapee, they said, was wearing a gray sweatshirt over a blue plaid shirt, black trousers and shoes when seen about 2 p.m. near Defiance.

Also still at large are Raymond Wade, 36, of Washington, Pa. and Norman Keeler, 25, of Houston, Pa. Robert Harn, 32, of Eighty-four and Donald Davisson, 27, of Baden, have been reported recaptured by authorities.

The men escaped from the institution last week by overpowering a guard.

Many Apply For Sewing Jobs Here

Several hundred women were interviewed at the Department of Employment Security office yesterday afternoon for work with a ladies apparel firm which may locate here.

Francis A. Kenney, manager, said applicants were still lined up at 4 p. m.

The applications are being taken at the office on 239 North Mechanic Street today from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The applications are being taken by staffers of the DES office and applicants are then interviewed by a representative of the firm, which is trying to determine the degree of skill applicants have in needed sewing operations.

Mr. Kenney said it appeared that a substantial amount of female labor is available here.

The availability of experienced female labor has been termed the major factor in whether the industry locates here or elsewhere.

Westernport Girl Wins Name Colt Contest Here

Janice Jenkins, 108 Main Street, Westernport, was adjudged the Allegany County winner yesterday in the "Name Misty's Colt" contest sponsored by the Allegany County Library.

Her entry will be submitted later this week in the national contest sponsored by the Rand McNally Company. The winning library nationally will receive $1,000 from Rand McNally for purchase of children's books at the discretion of the librarian.

The county winner's suggested name for the colt was "Chinky." Janice writes that the colt was born and raised on the island of Chicoteague. "He should be named after the little island which he loves so much," she added.

Three other entries were given honorable mention by the judges from a group of about 135 submitted by elementary and junior high school pupils from Cumberland, LaVale, Westernport and Frostburg, where branches of the county library operate.

Honorable mention was received by Kathleen Laffey, 320 Maryland Avenue, Westernport; Barbara Cloward, 1 Rogerway, LaVale, and Richard Croswell, 72 LaVale Court, LaVale.

Judges were William H. Eisenberger, vice-president of Litzenburg and Hurst; Juvenile Court Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin and Albert D. Darby Jr., reporter for The Cumberland News.

Bi-Weekly Pay Order Prepared

Provides For Checks Every Other Friday

Employes of the City of Cumberland will be paid every other Friday under an order prepared for introduction at Monday's Council meeting.

The order will become effective on January 1, if adopted, will change the city's compensation pay plan from semi-monthly to bi-weekly.

Minor changes will be made in the pay scale, it was explained, to make the compensation divisible by 26.

Pay checks, it was explained, will be a little less than at present, but will arrive every other Friday.

City workers have been urging the adoption of the plan for a number of years, saying it will enable them to budget their funds better.

Episcopalians Plan Thursday Service

Emmanuel Episcopal Church will have a service of Holy Communion at 10:30 a. m. Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

The choir will be present for the service and there will be a sermon by the rector, Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson. Mrs. Richard Fey will be the organist for this special service. The Thanksgiving offering will go for the Episcopal Church's work at the Church Home and Hospital in Baltimore.

James Orr Suffers Broken Hip, Pelvis

Two of three local men injured in a two-vehicle accident on Sideling Hill Mountain near Hancock Friday night are patients in Memorial Hospital.

James Orr, 544 Fairview Avenue, suffered a broken hip and a broken pelvis and cuts about the face and head. He was reported slightly improved yesterday but is not allowed to have visitors. Mr. Orr is a former city and county commissioner and a retired printer.

Lester J. Auker, Baltimore Pike, advertising manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, is also a patient in the hospital, where he is being treated for a broken vertebrae of the neck.

The men were reportedly going to Hagerstown for a Shriners' meeting when the car in which they were riding rammed against the back of a loaded coal truck.

Meeting Postponed

A regular meeting of the volunteer firemen of Bowling Green which was scheduled for tomorrow evening has been postponed due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

City May Extend Industrial Tax Exemption Plan

Leased Property May Be Included

The City of Cumberland on Monday will take up a proposed industrial tax exemption ordinance which would bring the city's law on the subject in line with regulations adopted by Allegany County.

The proposed ordinance was prepared yesterday by City Attorney William R. Carscaden and is slated to be introduced at Monday's Council meeting.

It will provide a 10-year tax exemption on land, buildings and personal property of a new industry or addition to an existing industry as in present city legislation.

Adds Lease Clause

Added, as in county legislation, will be the provision that property leased for industrial purposes will be subject to the same tax exemption.

The new ordinance is designed to encourage the location of new industries within the city limits and to make it easier for existing industries to expand, and to encompass in the plan property which may be leased to industries.

City officials said it is thought the plan will encourage industrial expansion here and will particularly cover a proposal for the industrial use of the old National Guard Armory.

Backed By Mayor

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said he will be in New York Monday, attending a meeting of the American Municipal Congress, and that Street Commissioner John J. Long will serve as acting mayor.

He said he is advising all commissioners that he is in favor of the proposed tax exemption ordinance and believes it is a "good step."

Church Notices Due Wednesday

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, church notices for services to appear in the newspapers of Saturday, November 26, must be in the Times-News office by noon Wednesday.

It will be impossible to handle them after that deadline.

North Mechanic Widening Set Next Spring

Cable Installation Will Force Delay

The widening of North Mechanic Street has been postponed until spring.

This decision was made at City Hall yesterday afternoon after the Potomac Edison Company advised city officials that the existing cable which serves North Mechanic Street lights must be left in service until new cable is installed and tied in.

It was explained that the cable is installed in series on both sides of the street and that until the new cable is in, it will not be possible to renew the old curb and widen the street between Baltimore and Bedford streets.

Face Yule Traffic

City officials said that since the cable installation now under way will take several weeks it was decided, due to the approaching Christmas season and winter weather, to postpone the widening project until spring.

Sections of the street which are torn up to allow cable installation will be patched with blacktop, which will be replaced with concrete next spring.

The work planned included removing three feet of sidewalk on the westerly side of the street in connection with the installation of the new mercury vapor lighting system.

All but a few of the lights have already been placed on Baltimore Street.

New Poles Needed

New cable and poles must be installed on North Mechanic Street. Existing poles will be used for the new lights on North Centre Street.

The Mayor and Council recently authorized the Street Department to do the work after citing the tremendous improvement expected in the movement of traffic on North Mechanic Street.

The project is estimated to cost $10,000.

Contract Case Is Scheduled In Court Today

Breach Charged In Local Dispute

A breach of contract suit between a local firm and a Baltimore engineering firm is scheduled to be heard this morning by a petit jury in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The suit was brought by Reid Hayden Inc., insulation engineers and contractors, against Charles E. Robinson, 218 North Mechanic Street trading as the Robinson Plumbing and Heating Company.

The plaintiff, represented by Attorney John M. Robb, contends that it entered into a contract with the local firm to install Therm-O-Tile conduits in a low rent housing project here.

Meanwhile the local firm got the services of another firm, the plaintiff claims. A total of $1,040 loss of profits is being sought, the plaintiff's counsel said.

Edward J. Ryan will be counsel for the defendant. The trial has been set for 9:15 a.m. with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris presiding.

Local Will Nominate

Officers will be nominated tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the fire hall at Cresaptown during a regular monthly business meeting of Local 261, ICWU, Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

JOHN H. STITELY

Stitely Named Supervisor Of Assessments

Oath Taken At Court House

John H. Stitely, 749 Washington Street, yesterday was named supervisor of assessments for Allegany County following an interview at the Court House by two State Department of Assessment and Taxation officials.

He succeeds the late Somerville Nicholson, who held the position for 32 years.

Mr. Stitely was approved by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners as senior assessor on September 29 last year.

Yesterday afternoon he was sworn into office by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of the court. Also present were Albert W. Ward, director of the State Department of Assessments and Taxation and William H. Riley, chief supervisor of assessments of the State of Maryland, who interviewed Mr. Stitely and four other men who sought the office.

After being named to the top position in the county, Mr. Stitely was honored during an informal luncheon at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Those who attended included the two officials from Baltimore, John J. Rowan, president of the Board of Commissioners and the assessors of the county.

Mr. Stitely, a Democrat, was endorsed by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee for the position of senior assessor. He was formerly an official of the Cumberland Brewing Company.

A native of Frederick, he was graduated from Frederick High School and Southeastern University, Washington, D. C.

While employed as an accountant in North Carolina in 1927 he took and passed the examination for certified public accountants.

Nine Complete First Aid Class

Nine employes of Rosenbaum Brothers Store recently completed a first aid course offered by the Allegany County Chapter of the Red Cross with Miss Helene R. Knippenberg as instructor.

Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary of the chapter, said certificates were presented to Kathleen Brown, John F. Campbell, Mary A. Harbaugh, Elizabeth C. Joy, Goldie M. Maloney, Martha M. Swanson, Thora M. Tewell, Dorothy M. Turano and Dorothy V. Wagus, all of Cumberland.

After the first of the year the group plans to take an advance course in first aid, according to W. Elmo Channel, chairman of first aid for the county chapter. The group was feted by Mrs. Esther B. Rosenbaum during a dinner held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Delegates Hold Third Hearing On Legislation

Oldtown School Plans Discussed

Continuing their hearings on proposed legislation, Senator Charles M. See and members of the Allegany County Delegation to the General Assembly, held the third in a series of meetings at the County Court House last night.

Sen. See presided and noted that additional hearings are scheduled November 28, December 2 and December 5 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting December 5 has been arranged for an appearance of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, and on December 2, school problems will be discussed.

Oldtown Spokesman

Among the delegations last night was a group from Oldtown. Guy A. Williams, spokesman, requested information on "how to change the curriculum from an agriculture school to a standard high school "like the rest of the county; a report on a bill to pave or blacktop an area around Oldtown School; information on why school superintendents cannot be elected instead of appointed and information of school trustees and school funds.

Mr. Wiliams was told that the General Assembly passed an enabling act, providing for paving at several schools. County Commissioners had agreed to do two of these each year. Mr. Williams said only one has been paved in two years.

He was also told that it would be necessary to pass a state law providing for election of all school superintendents in the state and Allegany County could not have a separate system. Senator See and all the delegates expressed the view passage of such a law would be difficult if not impossible and some of them questioned the advisability.

School Board Matters

On the other questions, they suggested that they be taken up with the School Board and with Ralph R. Webster, school superintendent. The group was also informed that residents of the Flintstone area are also interested in changing the curriculum at Flintstone High School from an agricultural school. The Flintstone group and the Oldtown group were invited to the meeting of the delegation December 2, when Mr. Webster is to appear.

A delegation from Westernport headed by Mayor Ray Wilt and including all members of the town council, Fire Chief Paul Michael and Calvin Shingler, president of the fire company, requested information on the secondary roads program.

The town officials proposed that work be started as soon as possible on improvements to State Route 36 as well as State Route 135. Mayor Wilt said he understands bids have been asked for part of the Route 135 project, but

Jury Awards $11,500 In Property Suit

Land Is Needed For Thruway Here

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury yesterday awarded $11,500 to a local company after hearing testimony in a condemnation suit brought by the State Roads Commission in connection with a parcel of property on Thomas Street which is needed for the Cumberland Thruway project right of way.

A three-story brick building in which the first floor is used as storage space and the second floor as a residence is the property which the SRC needs.

D. C. Goodfellow, local realtor, testified as to the appraisal he made for the SRC in May of 1959. Goodfellow told the jury and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris that he arrived at a figure of $1,799 for the land and $8,682 for the building.

Mr. Goodfellow also said the building was erected 40 or 45 years ago and that he had made allowance for depreciation in his compilation. He pointed out that the two upper floors were in very poor condition.

Peter J. Carpenti, counsel for the SRC, and William Walsh, local attorney, handled the case for the state while James A. Avirett was attorney for the macaroni firm.

Plan LaSalle Thanksgiving Dance

Because of threats of bodily harm already received, it was agreed by all present that the names of the spokesmen and delegation which apeared from the Georges Creek area would not be publicized.

Stronger Laws

However, in their charge that the law is being violated and there is no enforcement, the citizen delegation asked legislators to strengthen the county liquor laws, put some teeth in enforcement provisions and add a clause providing that no license for beer, wine, or liquor, or any combination of these, be issued in an area where there are fewer than 500 people within a one-mile radius.

In the area where the complaints were directed, it was claimed there are three establishments holding beer licenses, and there are fewer than 400 people within a mile radius.

Spokesman for the group told the delegation that efforts to have the sheriff, liquor inspectors or State Police investigate and make arrests have failed completely.

It was stated before the delegation that on Sunday, these places are "beehives of activity, and a majority of the customers are young people, particularly teenagers."

The area was described as that around National, Klondyke, Woodland and vicinity.

Cock Fights Cited

The citizens group also said there had been illegal cock-fights held in the section on occasions, but the violation of the county liquor law, such as sales on Sunday, sales to minors, and permitting minors to loiter around these places is a continuing problem.

One spokesman said that he had personally called the sheriff's office and filed a complaint on one Sunday. He then drove down to the places in operation, arriving within the next 15 minutes. He said there were some 30 cars parked in the area. Several score of people, including many young people began leaving the place and he was informed by some of them the "place was about to be raided."

He said that in a later conversation with the sheriff he was informed by the sheriff, "the liquor law is not in my jurisdiction and the liquor inspectors should be notified."

He said on another occasion, a state trooper had pulled his car into the area, turned around and drove away without making an investigation.

Senator See and members of the delegation present suggested that the complaints of violations should go to the grand jury or the state's attorney, and that the liquor board should also be notified.

The lawmakers expressed the view that there are sufficient laws

City May Extend Industrial Tax Exemption Plan

Leased Property May Be Included

The City of Cumberland on Monday will take up a proposed industrial tax exemption ordinance which would bring the city's law on the subject in line with regulations adopted by Allegany County.

The proposed ordinance was prepared yesterday by City Attorney William R. Carscaden and is slated to be introduced at Monday's Council meeting.

It will provide a 10-year tax exemption on land, buildings and personal property of a new industry or addition to an existing industry as in present city legislation.

Adds Lease Clause

Added, as in county legislation, will be the provision that property leased for industrial purposes will be subject to the same tax exemption.

The new ordinance is designed to encourage the location of new industries within the city limits and to make it easier for existing industries to expand, and to encompass in the plan property which may be leased to industries.

City officials said it is thought the plan will encourage industrial expansion here and will particularly cover a proposal for the industrial use of the old National Guard Armory.

Backed By Mayor

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said he will be in New York Monday, attending a meeting of the American Municipal Congress, and that Street Commissioner John J. Long will serve as acting mayor.

North Mechanic Widening Set Next Spring

Cable Installation Will Force Delay

The widening of North Mechanic Street has been postponed until spring.

This decision was made at City Hall yesterday afternoon after the Potomac Edison Company advised city officials that the existing cable which serves North Mechanic Street lights must be left in service until new cable is installed and tied in.

It was explained that the cable is installed in series on both sides of the street and that until the new cable is in, it will not be possible to renew the old curb and widen the street between Baltimore and Bedford streets.

Face Yule Traffic

City officials said that since the cable installation now under way will take several weeks it was decided, due to the approaching Christmas season and winter weather, to postpone the widening project until spring.

Sections of the street which are torn up to allow cable installation will be patched with blacktop, which will be replaced with concrete next spring.

The work planned included removing three feet of sidewalk on the westerly side of the street in connection with the installation of the new mercury vapor lighting system.

All but a few of the lights have already been placed on Baltimore Street.

New Poles Needed

New cable and poles must be installed on North Mechanic Street. Existing poles will be used for the new lights on North Centre Street.

The Mayor and Council recently authorized the Street Department to do the work after citing the tremendous improvement expected in the movement of traffic on North Mechanic Street.

The project is estimated to cost $10,000.

Oath Taken At Court House

John H. Stitely, 749 Washington Street, yesterday was named supervisor of assessments for Allegany County following an interview at the Court House by two State Department of Assessment and Taxation officials.

He succeeds the late Somerville Nicholson, who held the position for 32 years.

Mr. Stitely was approved by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners as senior assessor on September 29 last year.

Yesterday afternoon he was sworn into office by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of the court. Also present were Albert W. Ward, director of the State Department of Assessments and Taxation and William H. Riley, chief supervisor of assessments of the State of Maryland, who interviewed Mr. Stitely and four other men who sought the office.

After being named to the top position in the county, Mr. Stitely was honored during an informal luncheon at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Those who attended included the two officials from Baltimore, John J. Rowan, president of the Board of Commissioners and the assessors of the county.

Mr. Stitely, a Democrat, was endorsed by the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee for the position of senior assessor. He was formerly an official of the Cumberland Brewing Company.

Delegates Hold Third Hearing On Legislation

Oldtown School Plans Discussed

Continuing their hearings on proposed legislation, Senator Charles M. See and members of the Allegany County Delegation to the General Assembly, held the third in a series of meetings at the County Court House last night.

Sen. See presided and noted that additional hearings are scheduled November 28, December 2 and December 5 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting December 5 has been arranged for an appearance of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, and on December 2, school problems will be discussed.

Oldtown Spokesman

Among the delegations last night was a group from Oldtown. Guy A. Williams, spokesman, requested information on "how to change the curriculum from an agriculture school to a standard high school "like the rest of the county; a report on a bill to pave or blacktop an area around Oldtown School; information on why school superintendents cannot be elected instead of appointed and information of school trustees and school funds.

Mr. Wiliams was told that the General Assembly passed an enabling act, providing for paving at several schools. County Commissioners had agreed to do two of these each year. Mr. Williams said only one has been paved in two years.

He was also told that it would be necessary to pass a state law providing for election of all school superintendents in the state and Allegany County could not have a separate system. Senator See and all the delegates expressed the view passage of such a law would be difficult if not impossible and some of them questioned the advisability.

School Board Matters

On the other questions, they suggested that they be taken up with the School Board and with Ralph R. Webster, school superintendent. The group was also informed that residents of the Flintstone area are also interested in changing the curriculum at Flintstone High School from an agricultural school. The Flintstone group and the Oldtown group were invited to the meeting of the delegation December 2, when Mr. Webster is to appear.

A delegation from Westernport headed by Mayor Ray Wilt and including all members of the town council, Fire Chief Paul Michael and Calvin Shingler, president of the fire company, requested information on the secondary roads program.

The town officials proposed that work be started as soon as possible on improvements to State Route 36 as well as State Route 135. Mayor Wilt said he understands bids have been asked for part of the Route 135 project, but

Jury Awards $11,500 In Property Suit

Land Is Needed For Thruway Here

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury yesterday awarded $11,500 to a local company after hearing testimony in a condemnation suit brought by the State Roads Commission in connection with a parcel of property on Thomas Street which is needed for the Cumberland Thruway project right of way.

The property is owned by the Cumberland Macaroni Company and is located on the opposite side of the street from the plant. Lamont Street is on one side of the building.

A three-story brick building in which the first floor is used as storage space and the second floor as a residence is the property which the SRC needs.

D. C. Goodfellow, local realtor, testified as to the appraisal he made for the SRC in May of 1959. Goodfellow told the jury and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris that he arrived at a figure of $1,799 for the land and $8,682 for the building.

Mr. Goodfellow also said the building was erected 40 or 45 years ago and that he had made allowance for depreciation in his compilation. He pointed out that the two upper floors were in very poor condition.

Peter J. Carpenti, counsel for the SRC, and William Walsh, local attorney, handled the case for the state while James A. Avirett was attorney for the macaroni firm.
